LITTLE MARY CECILIA BRUNOLD
Has just been cured of the worst Eczema ever seen by the doctors who treated her From head to feet a mass of diseased skin. Several physicians, a medical college, and all remedies fail Cured by Cuticura Remedies

My little daughter Mary Cecilia Brunold was afflicted with the worst case of eczema ever seen by the doctors who treated her She was literally covered from head to foot with scabs These physicians tried their best to cure her but I believe they were only experimenting They kept on experimenting for over ten months but instead of getting better the child got worse, and I did not know what course to pursue My wife took her after we had paid all we could afford for medical treatment to a medical college where there were some twenty or thirty doctors assembled but the case baffled them all My wife had to go every day and sometimes twice a day In fact the medicine they gave my child did not have time to act even if there was any virtue in it it was changed so often by orders of the doctors. The latter part of January after everything had failed and patience and money were both exhausted I made up my mind to quit all doctoring and try the CUTICURA REMEDIES I did so and now I can say that my daughter is cured sound in health, and well to the surprise of hundreds.

The druggist Mr H M Kreeger corner Chauteau and Ewing Avenues who sold us the CUTICURA REMEDIES is as much astonished as any of us The CUTICURA REMEDIES have worked a complete cure and we have used but a little more than three-fourths of a bottle of CUTICURA RESOLVENT and a proportionate amount of CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP I am ready at any time to make affidavit that my daughter had the worst case of eczema as the doctors all admit, ever seen in this city and that she had been cured solely with the CUTICURA REMEDIES after the best physicians and remedies failed.

I shall be glad to have any one call upon or write me who has a child similarly afflicted or any person who is troubled with a skin disease that he may see for himself what your CUTICURA REMEDIES have done I do this in gratitude for the cure that has been effected in my child's case

John D Fleming the new United States Attorney for the district of Colorado is a young man engaged in the practice of law at Leadville He was recommended for the office by the congressional delegation and prominent republicans of the state

SOME SPECULATION

It is said George H Windmer of Philadelphia, has accepted the office of supervising architect of the treasury

FOR SUPERVISING ARCHITECT

WASHINGTON March 21.—In answer to an inquiry on the subject this afternoon Secretary Windom said that he had tendered the position of supervising architect of the treasury to James H Windrim of Philadelphia but that it was not sure whether he would accept it or not.

WINDRIM WILL PROBABLY ACCEPT

PHILADELPHIA March 21.—James H Windrim who was to-day tendered the position of supervising architect of the treasury by Secretary Windom said this evening that if satisfactory arrangements with regard to his business in this city could be made he probably would accept.

APPOINTED PRIVATE SECRETARY

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Charles M Pendley who has been for many years official stenographer at the White house has been appointed private secretary to the secretary of the treasury, to take effect April 1

WASHINGTON'S NEW GOVERNOR

Biographical Sketch of Miles C Moore, of Walla Walla.

WALLA WALLA W T March 21.—Miles C Moore Washington's new governor, was born at Rixville Muskingum county Ohio April 17 1845 where his father kept a country store He was the youngest of four children.

At the age of 12 after receiving a common school education, he went to Point Bluff Wis., where he attended the Bronson Institute an academy conducted by Methodists At 18 he turned his face Westward arriving at Walla Walla in the fall of 1863 a complete stranger and almost penniless While standing on the street, wondering what to do, he was asked by Alphonse Kyger of Kyger & Rees merchants here, what he was looking for Young Moore responded work and was at once employed by the firm aforesaid remaining with them two years, making the best of friends

He was attracted by the Montana discoveries and went thither remaining a year returning in the fall of 1866 He engaged in business with H O Johnson ~~then postmaster and bookseller~~ now cashier in Baker & Boyer's national bank

Having by this time accumulated about $10 000 he went to Washington New York and Chicago and studied law and Eastern business methods, coming back here in 1868

The following spring with Frank and John Paine he established the general merchandising house of Paine Bros & Moore, succeeding the old time business of Baker & Boyer and greatly enlarging its scope, continuing with it nine years

In 187 he was elected mayor his term being noted for economic reforms that he instituted

After withdrawing from Paine Bros. he became confidential agent and adviser of the late Dr D S. Baker, whose daughter he married and materially assisted in conducting and building up his great enterprises and when the doctor became prostrated from paralysis his vast business was entirely managed by Mr Moore and as a testimonial of his business ability was, by Dr Baker, made chief executor of his estate

As governor he will undoubtedly conduct the high office alike creditably to himself and his party and to the benefit of the territory

Mr Moore received notice of his appointment only on coming into his office and receiving the congratulations of his friends assembled there. During the afternoon he was the recipient of congratulatory telegrams from Washington Spokane Falls, Seattle, Tacoma and Portland at all of which places he is well known

His appointment gives great satisfaction here which will find expression in a reception to be tendered him by citizens Friday evening in Small's opera house

THE TERRITORIAL SECRETARY

Oliver Cromwell White the newly appointed territorial secretary was born at Dubuque, Iowa December 1, 1846 He is a son of Charles White an Oregon pioneer who at one time was sheriff of Wasco county, Or He removed to Yamhill county Or in 1850 where he taught school at one time serving as guard of the Oregon penitentiary He moved to Dayton W T in 1876 and served two years as auditor of Columbia county. Afterwards he was elected clerk of the district court serving four years In 1879 he purchased the Columbia Chronicle running it a short time He was elected to the territorial council in 1886 exercising a marked influence on that body and was a delegate to the national republican convention that nominated Harrison He is now editor of the Columbia Chronicle and is noted for his strong advocacy of republicanism In 1886 White was appointed one of the penitentiary commissioners to supervise the erection of the penitentiary and held the office two years

APPROVED BY BOTH PARTIES

DAYTON W T, March 21.—The nomination of O C White of this city meets with the hearty approval of democrats and republicans alike in Columbia county

IN THE SENATE

The Special Session Will End Next Thursday or Friday

WASHINGTON March 21.—The senate met at 11 A M Pruden, one of the president's private secretaries appeared at the bar and delivered sundry messages from the president, whereupon the senate went into executive session

After a brief executive session without opening the doors the senate took a recess until 2 o'clock at which time there being no further nominations it adjourned

ONE MORE WEEK ONLY

WASHINGTON March 21.—In executive session of the senate this afternoon Sherman announced that President Harrison had informed him that he (the president) was so far along with his nominations that the senate might conveniently adjourn next week It is the expectation that the special session will end Thursday or Friday next.

In order to assist the president in his intention the senate did not take the usual three day recess to day but will meet again to-morrow This notification makes it practically certain that no legislative business will be transacted before adjournment There will probably be however some discussion of the resolutions introduced yesterday by Butler declaring that the senate has power to elect a president pro tem for service during the entire term of congress a decision by the senate being desired by a number of senators upon that disputed point.

In executive session to-day the senate confirmed a number of territorial and postal nominations, comprising all that had up to date been reported from the committees The list is however withheld the senate having failed to suspend the operation of the rule which keeps confirmations secret and delays notification to the president until two additional executive sessions shall have supervened without the entry of a motion to reconsider

INCREASED HOURS

The Clerks in the Postal Service Required to Put in More Time

WASHINGTON March 21.—Postmaster General Wanamaker has issued an order directing all clerks in the office of the first assistant postmaster general and such as may be required from the other bureaus of the department until otherwise directed, to begin work at 8 30 o'clock A M instead of 9 as heretofore and remain at their desks until 6 o'clock P M instead of 4

This increase of hours is made for the purpose of facilitating the dispatch of applications and the preparation of papers for action in the office of the first assistant postmaster general

The clerks in the dead letter office are also required to work from 8 30 until 6 o'clock until the work now in arrears in that division is brought up

See Steinbach's corner window for novelties in spring suits.

APPOINTMENT NOTES.

Corporal Tanner Strongly Supported for the Commissionership of Pensions

WASHINGTON, March 21.—All of the Western states have petitioned to have Corporal Tanner made commissioner of pensions Senators Dolph and Mitchell and Representative Hermann have also united in a message to the president urging the appointment of Tanner They say the republican members of the Oregon legislature favor his appointment and allude to the noble campaign work he performed in the state last June

Five hundred Chicago lawyers have signed a petition urging the appointment of Stephen A Douglas jr as United States district attorney for the Northern district of Illinois.

Ex Bank Examiner Hugh Young of Pennsylvania is backed by a large number of Pennsylvania and some New York bankers for the comptroller of the currency He is a twin brother of the late ex Governor Thomas Young of Ohio

Ex Congressman J R Thomas of Illinois who was so favorably mentioned for a place in General Harrison's cabinet, is said to be slated for the office of second comptroller of the treasury department

RED TAPE AT WASHINGTON

Senator Cockrell Has Prepared an Exhaustive Report on Business Methods

WASHINGTON March 21.—A special committee appointed by the last congress to investigate the methods of doing business in the executive departments of which Senator Cockrell is chairman, has completed its work and the report prepared by Cockrell (who has really been the committee) will be made to the senate in a few days

The document is an exhaustive and interesting one containing numerous illustrations of how red tape and senseless adherence to forms and precedence interrupts and retards the dispatch of public business

The report will show that in some of the departments the pension and land bureaus for instance it required as long a time as four or five years to settle a claim or get information of a certain kind. Claims filed as far back as 1864 in these bureaus are still undisposed of.

In some of the offices efforts are making to get out of the old ruts and adopt new and better methods with the result that business is dispatched with greater accuracy more speedily and with more benefit to those interested The postmaster general's office is up with the current business and requests for information are answered within twenty four hours

In the surgeon general's office Dr Ainsworth has introduced a card index by the use of which he has caught up with the business which was over a year behind at the time he took hold and has been able to furnish information in 72 per cent of the cases as against 30 per cent under the old style

Cockrell says there is however in many if not in most cases a disposition to ignore improved ways of doing business, and the report will recommend among other things, that a commission be appointed with authority and direction to institute the reforms suggested.

THE CHANG KIANG RIOTS.

Further Particulars Concerning the Cause of the Disturbance

WASHINGTON March 21.—The department of state has received further details concerning the recent riot at Chang Kiang

The trouble arose out of the stoning of Sikh policemen of the British quarter by a crowd of boys and young men It occurred in the Chinese new year when business was practically suspended and the streets were thronged with idlers

The quarrel of the boys was assumed by the men and a general fight ensued The report was that a Chinaman had been killed by the police Immediately the enraged mob attacked and burned the police stations. The street was thronged with 20,000 rioters who moved towards the United States and British consulates

When the situation became alarming 300 soldiers from the neighboring barracks appeared upon the scene, but their presence served only to excite the derision of the mob Undeterred by the soldiers the United States and British consulates were assulted and the British consulate burned

With much difficulty the two consuls, with their families effected their escape, and reached the mail steamer just in time to evade the fury of the rioters, who were in hot pursuit. The mob made various unsuccessful efforts to board the vessel but were repulsed in each instance.

The arrival of a brigade of soldiers in the evening and a British man of war the following morning had the effect of restoring quiet

A HIGH MINDED JURY

They Want to Know the Penalty of Conviction Before Bringing in Their Verdict.

PITTSBURG March 21.—A Wheeling dispatch says There was a remarkable occurrence in the United States court to day which shows the futility of any further attempt by the government to secure convictions in election cases, at least with the present panel

William Meyers alleged to be a minor was on trial, and this evening the jury came into court and said that there was not a possible chance of an agreement being reached

The court said it would send them back when Foreman O'Brien said that none of the jury was willing to convict unless they could be assured in advance what the punishment would be The court sharply reproved the jury for this attempt to compromise the case, whereupon the jury retired, and within five minutes returned a verdict of not guilty

The sensation was tremendous, and the verdict is the talk of the city to-night It is not impossible that no more cases will be tried by the district attorney although seventy indictments are in his hands

A Promoter of Negro Emigration Gets Into Difficulty

RALEIGH N C, March 21.—A white man named Cheek one of the agents engaged in inducing negro emigrants to go south came to grief to-day. He left here last night with about sixty negroes for Mississippi but at Greensboro eighty miles from here he was overhauled by a prominent farmer of this section named Mial who had him arrested and brought back to this city charging that he had enticed away the hands who were hired to work for him by the year

Cheek was arraigned this evening before a justice of the peace and found guilty and in default of $200 was put in jail His whole crew were left at Greensboro where they yet remain

The farmers throughout this section have been left without hands enough to work their crops, and Mial determined to make a test case

A communication addressed to the governor, stating that there were numerous cases of glanders in Washington and Wasco counties, was referred to the commission, who decided to direct the state veterinarian to cause an investigation at once. It seems likely the commission will have some important work under the law.

She was about 65 years of age, and leaves a family and a host of friends to mourn her death. Several years ago the government took Mrs. Tuck's land here to locate Fort Bellingham upon, and drove her off by force of arms. She bravely fought this irregular proceeding, and gave one-third of her claim to Mr. Whiteworth to secure it back for her, which he did. Upon this place she lived and died, respected by all her neighbors. Her first settlement here was in 1854.

Faulkner, of San Francisco, in wrestling matches, to-day arranged a contest with Pietro Arena, who claims to be the champion of Italy. The match is for $500 a side, Græco-Roman, best two in three, and will take place in Seattle on March 30. Arena, it is said, made a draw with Duncan C. Libels were also filed against 931 pounds of contraband opium, now seized and at Port Townsend. Part of this is that for which the Walla Walla got into trouble.

Among the fences they disfigured were those of Bishop Paddock and Nelson Bennett. They are waiting in the county jail for money to be sent to pay their fines.

The man who shot Osborne had been working for the railroad company and had been discharged. No motive for the act is known other than that of revenge against some of the company's officials for his discharge. Mr. Osborne was brought to his home in this city and his wound dressed by Dr. Wintermute. The ball entered the side of his face near the jaw, and passed through to the other side. He is doing well to-day and will recover.

THE WABASH RECEIVERSHIP.

An Agreement Reached by the Contending Interests.

CHICAGO, March 21.—The litigation looking to the release of the Wabash road from the custody of the receiver came up on argument in the federal court to-day. The session was occupied with arguments.

At a conference of the opposing delegates this afternoon, a decree of sale satisfactory to all parties was virtually agreed upon. Judge Gresham suggested that the counsel retire for conference, and following out this suggestion a meeting was held in the room of James Thompson representing the Central Trust Company, through whom the bondholders essential to the plan of reorganization bring their complaint. The result was that the representatives of the various interests agreed on the terms of a decree settling some of the points of difference, so that the sale can take place without interfering with their rights in the property, which can be settled after the sale.

Thompson made the following statement as to the agreement: "It looks now as though there would be no extended contest, as was anticipated, and that the decree will be entered. It has been under discussion this afternoon, and, with some modifications, has been substantially agreed upon, all exceptions being overruled. The property will probably be sold first in parcels or divisions, subject to resale as an entirety, and if it brings more as a unit, the sale, as a unit, will be affirmed; if less, the sales in parcels will be carried out. There are nine divisions. The agreement will be presented in court to-morrow.

A SON'S DISGRACE.

Robert Sigel Sentenced to Imprisonment for Six Years at Hard Labor.

NEW YORK, March 21.—Robert Sigel, son of General Franz Sigel, who pleaded guilty to the forgery of pension checks, was sentenced, in the United States court to-day to six years' imprisonment at hard labor.

The prisoner exhibited great nervousness as Judge Benedict told him he had wronged many persons, and that it was difficult to find any circumstance to warrant a mitigation of punishment.

Sigel's young wife wept bitterly in the rear of the court room when she heard the sentence pronounced. When the prisoner was being taken back to jail his brother fainted in the hallway outside of the court room, and was unconscious for an hour.

The commissioner of pensions writes, notifying the persons swindled through Sigel to communicate with the pension office at Washington.

FOR BEEF AND PORK INSPECTION.

DENVER, March 21.—Governor Cooper to-day signed the bill recently passed by the general assembly, providing for the inspection before slaughter of any meat cattle, hogs or sheep, of any description, the meat of which is intended to to be sold as human food. The bill practically prevents the importation of meats slaughtered by "the big four" or any other Eastern packing houses.

It is understood that these Eastern houses will immediately make an effort to have the law declared unconstitutional.

ELOPEMENT IN THE MORNING.

Parental Blessing in the Afternoon and Theater Party at Night.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The hasty marriage of the daughter of Chief Justice Fuller has given a stimulus to the young people of Washington. Miss Katty D. Thompson, quite a well-known local singer, quietly traveled to Baltimore this afternoon and was married to Edward L. Berry, a nephew of Senator Berry, of Arkansas. The young couple returned to Washington and proceeded to the home of the bride's mother, informed her of what they had done and received the parental blessing, and in the evening formed a party at the theater.

MAGNETIC TREATMENT.

A Needle Extracted From a Man's Foot by an Electric Dynamo.

SCRANTON, Pa., March 21.—Doctors and scientific men in this city are interested in a peculiar case which developed in the city to-day. A week ago Charles Nier, of this city, ran a needle into his foot. The surgeons sought in vain for it. This afternoon Nier was taken to the plant of the electric railway company and his foot held near one of the dynamos. In fifteen minutes the needle was drawn out.

Governor Swineford, of Alaska.

CHICAGO, March 21.—Governor Swineford, of Alaska, passed through the city this evening. He says he will retire from office by resignation on April 30, and embark in mining business.

"Alaska was not given justice, he said, referring to the recent congressional investigation of the alleged evils there. "The investigation was little more than a farce. The way it should have been conducted was for the committee to have gone out there."

Collapse of Villard's Scheme.

NEW YORK, March 21.—It is said that the great scheme of Henry Villard whereby all of Edison's electric companies were to be consolidated into one gigantic concern has collapsed.

A few weeks ago the company, with an authorized capital $12,000,000, was chartered by the state of New Jersey. The purpose of this corporation was to consolidate the four separate organizations which have hitherto divided the business of manufacturing and selling Edison's electric light appliances.

Two Desperadoes Captured.

DENVER, Colo., March 21.—Superintendent Roger O'Mara of the Pittsburg police force, passed through the city for the East to-day with "Hob Nail" Riley and "Fast" Mashone, alias John Hart, two of the worst all round thieves in the country. The Jurors Could Not Agree.

BALTIMORE, March 21.—The jury in the United States court could not determine whether Captain Beauchamp, of the oyster boat Z. E. Beauchamp, had been guilty of the cruelties charged against him by the men employed on the vessel, and were dismissed by Judge Morris this morning. He had in vain exhausted every effort to induce them to agree upon a verdict.

AUTHENTIC INFORMATION DESIRED,

In Regard to the Organization and Services of "Captain Lawrence Hall's Company of Oregon Volunteers."

Under a recent date Captain Wm. E. Birkhimer writes the following note which is self explanatory:

HEADQUARTERS DEP'T OF THE COLUMBIA,
VANCOUVER BARRACKS, W. T.,
March 16, 1889.

Having been designated to investigate the matter of the services of certain volunteers, pursuant to the following resolution:

"IN THE SENATE OF THE UNITED STATES,
January 29, 1889.

Resolved, That the secretary of war be, and he is hereby, directed to cause an investigation to be made into the organization and service of what has been commonly known in Oregon as 'Captain Lawrence Hall's Company of Oregon Volunteers,' which, it is alleged, was organized in the early part of the year 1848, for service, and which served in the Indian war in Oregon, known as the 'Cayuse War;' and to report to the senate, at his earliest convenience, all the facts relating to such alleged organization, whether of record or otherwise, together with the names of the officers and privates constituting such company.

Attest: ANSON G. McCOOK, Secretary."

I will thank anyone having knowledge of the organization and services of the company mentioned, to communicate it. The information which, it is conceived, will meet the purposes of the senate resolution, and best serve those interested, should cover these points, viz:

First—Anything authentic regarding the organization of the company.

Second—The character of the services—where and when—that it rendered. This should likewise be confined to facts, as nothing else will serve any useful purpose.

Third—The names and residences of the members of the company with the rank of each; and the names and post-office addresses of surviving members.

It is suggested to those who may be interested in this matter, that they can perhaps best serve themselves as well as more satisfactorily develop the facts, by calling on me, and making the statement in person.

WM E. BIRKHIMER,
Captain, Acting Judge Advocate, U. S. Army.

[Oregon and Washington territory papers please copy.]

A coroner's jury was summoned, and determined that the deceased came to his death by an overdose of morphine administered by his own hand with suicidal intent through an aberration of his mind, and that his name was C. E. Crookshank, of Clackamas, Oregon. Some $50 was found on his person.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—Colonel Loomis L. Langdon, commanding the Second artillery, U. S. A., arrived by the Southern overland train from Fort Barrancas, Fla., last night, and was received by a number of army officers and personal friends. FOUR MASKED ROBBERS

A Train "Held Up" on the Atlantic & Pacific.

THE EXPRESS CAR PILLAGED.

None of the Passengers Molested—Wells, Fargo & Co. Have Little or No Information of the Robbery—California Notes.

HOLBROOK, A. T., March 21.—East-bound passenger train No. 2, on the Atlantic & Pacific railroad, was robbed last night at Canyon Diablo by four masked men. Wells, Fargo & Co.'s express car was robbed, but it is not known what amount was taken. The passengers were not molested. A number of shots were fired by the robbers but no one was injured. Sheriff Larson and a posse are in pursuit.

PARTICULARS OF THE ROBBERY.

The train was moving slowly and the robbers mounted the locomotive without any difficulty. By threats of shooting they forced the engineer to stop the train. One of the men stood guard over the locomotive, while the others took the firemen to the express car and compelled him by threats to call to the Wells Fargo express messenger to open the door. He did so and the robbers entered and searched the messenger. He had between $200 and $300 in packages for local points, but the safe, containing several thousand dollars, was not touched and no demand was made on the messenger to unlock it.

None of the passengers were molested and from the meager account obtained there appears to have been no effort on their part to protect Wells Fargo property.

The four men left going southward from Winslow. A sheriff and posse are in pursuit.

NO INFORMATION RECEIVED.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—Superintendent Rowell, of the Wells, Fargo Express Company, said that he had received no information of the reported train robbery at Holbrook, Arizona, last night, and had no idea as to the amount of treasure secured, but he had no doubt as to the truth of the report, train robberies in that locality having been numerous of late.

He considered that the robbers had selected a section of country in which it would be difficult to apprehend them.

THE FREQUENCY OF EXPRESS ROBBERIES.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—"We have received no information of the reported robbery," said Superintendent Rowell, of Wells, Fargo & Co., to-day. "If I was a young man," continued he, "I should certainly adopt some other calling than that of the express business. It is robberies, robberies, all the time. I don't have a chance to clean up one case before three or four trains or stages are stopped. That basket," pointing to a red place that was loaded with bulky envelopes, "is where I keep the records of robberies, and the internal thing is full all the time. The business is becoming monotonous."

THE APPROPRIATION BILL.

Governor Waterman Vetoes a Number of the Items.

SACRAMENTO, March 21.—Governor Waterman has signed the general appropriation bill, with the exception of the following items, to-wit: For salary of the state veterinary surgeon, $6000; for support of the San Francisco normal school, $15,000, to be used during the forty-second fiscal year. These items are objected to and not approved for the reason that there are no laws authorizing the expenditure of the sums for the purposes stated in the items. For salaries of assistants traveling and contingent expenses in the office of the commissioner of the bureau of labor statistics, $9000. This item is objected to and not approved for the reason that the amount sought to be appropriated is excessive, the scope of the office not warranting such expenditure. For the use of the state board of silk culture, $10,000; objected to and not approved for the reason that while the state board of silk culture has been in existence for a period of four years, it has accomplished nothing. It has been proved, years before the organization, that the rearing of silk worms and manufacture of silk therefrom could not be successfully done in California, where the cost of labor is much higher than that of India and China, whose raw silk is admitted into the United States duty free.

THE RATE ON CANNED GOODS.

A Meeting of the Transcontinental Association Will Soon Be Held.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—The merchants of San Francisco and Eastern cities recently signed petitions asking for another meeting of the Transcontinental Association, to consider the necessary reduction of certain rates, among others the rate on canned goods, which is now $1 20 per hundred pounds. Canners here state that there are two or three thousand carloads of canned goods here now, ready to be shipped East and to Europe, but that $1 20 would make the goods a dead loss to the shipper and consumer. General Manager Bissell, of the Atlantic & Pacific, said to-day that another meeting of the association would undoubtedly soon be called.

ON OUR DIGNITY.

No Minister to London Until England Sends a Man to Washington.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—The Examiner's Washington special says: President Harrison, it is said, will make no nomination to the court of St. James until Mr. Pauncefort, recently appointed minister to this country, has arrived. The delay of the Salisbury government in sending a successor to Lord Sackville, was intended as a snub to the Cleveland administration, but it was in reality an affront to the entire American people, and this is the construction which, it is understood, President Harrison puts on it. So long as the English mission to this country is unfilled our national self-respect requires that this country be unrepresented at the court of St. James. General Harrison has thus far received no official notification of Mr. Pauncefort's appointment, nor can he until Mr. Pauncefort arrives in Washington and presents his credentials.

THE COLUMBIA'S PASSENGERS.

They Have Become Reconciled to Their Fate, and Will Give a Grand Performance.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—The quarantined passengers on the steamer Columbia have apparently become reconciled to their fate, for, when the tug Water Nymph went alongside to-day, there was no attempt made by any of the passengers to get on board. They begin to treat the matter as a huge joke.

The captain of the Water Nymph was informed that to-morrow night there would be a grand performance on board.

A select company from the passengers were to give a play especially written for the occasion, entitled "In Quarantine, or the Lights of 'Frisco."

Alexander Campbell, who is to go to Alaska on the bark Retriever will be transferred to that vessel to-morrow in the Whitehall under the supervision of the quarantine officers.

ON THE C. & O.

Trains Again Running on Time All Over the System.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—The Southern Pacific company has still a very large force of men at work on the Oregon division, and slides are being promptly done away with. The biggest gang of laborers is at the ninth crossing, just above Delta, where there is a big hill of clay which manifests a great propensity for sliding. It is as much as the engineers can do to keep it steady. Another force of men is at work replacing trestling with earth and gravel, and restoring the roadbed to its pristine firmness. Trains are again running on time all over the system. The only danger is now at Tunnel, where a great deal of rain has been falling during the past two days.

HEAVY WEATHER AT SEA.

Vessels Arriving at San Francisco Report Considerable Damage.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—After a passage of nine days the schooner J. M. Coleman arrived to-day from Shoalwater bay. All the way down heavy southeast and southwest gales were encountered. When crossing the bar the Coleman shipped a heavy sea, which carried away a part of her after rail and stanchions and hurt the man at the wheel.

THE DECK-LOAD JETTISONED.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—The steamer Wilmington, which arrived from Puget sound Wednesday, encountered rough weather on the entire trip. On Monday last the storm was so great that it became necessary to throw the deck-load of the cargo overboard.

"LITTLE LORD FAUNTLEROY."

An Immense Sale of Tickets for the Opening Night at the Baldwin.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—The announcement of the opening of the box-sheet for "Little Lord Fauntleroy," which commences at the Baldwin next Friday night, brought a great crowd to the theater this morning. The line of ticket buyers which formed this morning extended fully a block. By 11:30 o'clock every seat in the orchestra, dress circle and parquette had been sold for the opening night.

Manager Hayman says the sale is the largest ever known in the history of the theater for a production of the kind at the regular prices.

IN THE ALMS HOUSE.

Death of an Old-Time Policeman and Pedestrian.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—Jimmy Kenovan died to-day at the alms house, it being the result of a blow on the head inflicted by a Barbary coast ruffian a week or so ago. He was 74 years old and had been in California since 1849. He was born in the Fourth ward in New York city in 1815, was a member of the police force there, was one of the first members of the police force in this city and served for several years.

Since then he has been noted as a pedestrian, having engaged in many matches. His famous walk to San Jose and back some years ago for the destitute widows' and orphans' fund netted $7000.

The Ciprico Trial.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—The defense rested their case in the Ciprico-Chinese certificate trial to-day, and the prosecution introduced evidence in rebuttal.

THE SANTA CLARA MINES.

Two Thousand Men in Camp, Very Few of Whom Are Miners.

SAN DIEGO, March 21.—A special from Santa Clara says 2000 men are there, most of whom don't know which end of the pocker to put the gold in. Joe Robinson, an expert, writes that he made a thorough examination of the camp and finds plenty of gold, but only for experienced miners. There is no demand for labor there. Governor Torres has posted the following:

First—Everybody without distinction of nationality, is free to prospect.

Second—The denouncer of a claim has a priority right to it.

Third—In case a claim is denounced when being worked, the person in actual work shall have preference; if he fails, then the applicant may denounce.

The fee for denouncing is reduced to $14.

A new strike on Alamo creek has caused excitement at Santa Clara, and about 200 men have gone to the scene of the new discovery.

AN ARIZONA FRAUD.

HOLBROOK, Ariz., March 21.—The gold excitement has proved itself to be without foundation. Nothing was discovered beyond iron pyrites, gypsum and mica, all in small quantities.

Uncle Sam Voorhees, an old experienced prospector, claims to have found in nine panfuls of dirt half a dozen particles of gold, but it needs a magnifying glass to see the color. The entire affair may be put down as a huge hoax, put up by a tramp or some railroad section men.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—Dispatches received here from Washington state that the attorney general is about to commence suit against A. M. Simpson & Bro. and their agents, M. M. Melvin and C. H. Emerson, to recover the value of 1,220,000 feet of fir sawlogs, which, the government alleges, they purchased from W. Senior and John Pierce, of Fairview, Or., who had unlawfully cut the timber upon government land in Oregon in 1875. A. M. Simpson of the Northern Lumber Company, was seen in his office to-day. He said he did not remember having made the purchase referred to. His agents' instructions were to be very careful not to buy illegally cut timber and he is certain if they purchased the timber referred to by the attorney general they were led to believe that it had been legally cut. Such will be his defense if the threatened suit is instituted.

Important Bills Passed.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—Upon the approval of the governor, four bills passed by the recent legislature affecting the water-front interests of the city have become laws. Two are of great importance. One of them provides for the construction and operation of a belt railroad by the harbor commissioners, and the other empowers the same board to construct and operate creosoting works for the protection of the piles used in the construction of wharves belonging to the state.

Senate bill No. 32 provides that the Oregon Railway & Navigation Company shall be reimbursed to the extent of not more than $5000 for the loss occasioned near a year ago, when the teredo eaten piles in the Spear street wharf gave way, and sent a lot of merchandise into the bay, while senate bill No. 167 increases the powers of the commissioners over the sea-wall lots.

An Ambitious Pugilist.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—Billy Scott, of Seattle, has written here, saying that he has heard that Tom Ward, who recently fought a ten-round draw with Sam Fitzpatrick, wants to make a match with Tom Cleary for $1000 a side. Scott thinks that he should have the first chance at Ward, as the question of who is the better man has often been raised, and they have never met.

He wants to fight for $250 to $1000 per side and gate receipts, or will fight for a purse alone. He will fight under any rules or conditions, and will allow Ward $50 for his expenses to Seattle. Ward and Sailor Brown are now in Portland.

In Favor of the Defendant.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—The supreme court has rendered a decision in the case of Gates vs. the Carquenez Packing Company, in which it was determined that the defendant should pay the plaintiff $301, representing the difference in weight between the fruit when shipped at Vacaville and when received by the cannery.

The court holds that, when not otherwise expressed in contract, the delivery of goods to a carrier by the seller is the same thing as the delivery to the purchaser, and that the purchaser must stand whatever loss is sustained in transportation.

Judgment Recovered.

OAKLAND, Cal., March 21.—The jury in the case of D. W. Swain against the Fourteenth Street Railway Company for $50,000 damages, for being thrown from a patrol wagon and being struck by a car, awarded the plaintiff $7500 damages. The defense was granted a stay of execution for twenty days, and will probably appeal.

A few months ago Dr. Marilla D. Wilson recovered judgment against this company for $10,700 damages.

Testing the New Charter.

LOS ANGELES, March 21.—In pursuance of the restraining order to test the constitutionality of the new city charter, Auditor Stiles refused to give up his position to-day to the new government. The mayor gave up his position. The old council adjourned, but not sine die.

Marriage of a Well Known Baseballist.

OAKLAND, March 21.—George E. VanHoltren, the well known baseball player, was married this evening to Miss Blanche K. O'Brien at St. Patrick's church in West Oakland. VanHoltren will leave for the East next week to fill his engagements.

Serious Mishap to Mrs. Field.

SAN DIEGO, March 21.—Yesterday Mrs. Field, widow of the late Cyrus W. Field, who has been sojourning at National City, fell and broke her shoulder blade. As she is about 80 years old her recovery is considered very doubtful.

Shipping.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—Arrived—Brig W. H. Meyer, Gray's harbor. Cleared—Bark Carrollton, Port Townsend. Departed—Steamer City of Puebla, Victoria; steamer Oregon, Astoria; ship Two Brothers, Tacoma.

The Art of Conversation.

Henry Watterson in Courier-Journal.

De Quincey, who wrote so graphically of "Murder Considered as a Fine Art," wrote more interestingly and instructively of the art of conversation.

He deplored the fact that, though a Frenchman had come to London to lecture on the art of taking soup gracefully, "for conversation, the great paramount purpose of social meetings, no art exists." De Quincey then proceeded to elaborate his views on the subject, declaring that the best effect was produced by following a few simple instincts of real good breeding.

Good breeding, he said, is made up chiefly of negative qualities, as most other things seemed to be in the day of De Quincey. "More," added the essayist, "will be done for the benefit of conversation by the simple grace of good manners (that is, chiefly by a system of forbearances) applied to the besetting vices of social intercourse, than ever was or can be done by all varieties of intellectual powers assembled upon the arena.

One may admit the force of De Quincey's plea for his negative system, his methods of exclusion, and still question whether, in our attempts to follow his rules, we have not carried exclusion and negation too far. The vapid utterance, the meaningless phrases which form so great a part of social interchange, conform strictly, perhaps, to De Quincey's rules, but we do not see why the intellectual element should be excluded entirely.

De Quincey believed that conversation should, if properly regulated, be not merely a vehicle of communication, but might itself develop hidden truths and stimulate the growth of thought in the mind. "Proper regulation" meant training those who made extended remarks, lodging with some symposiarch to alter morbid tendencies—in other words to change the subject—when, through accident, ignorance or exclusion, conversation sinks into insipidity.

CHEERS BY IRISHMEN.

An Officer's Disgrace Announced in the Commons.

AN ACRIMONIOUS DISCUSSION.

Taunts and Derisive Laughter Exchanged Over the Pigott Forgeries—A Severe Arraignment of Balfour and Salisbury.

LONDON, March 21.—In the commons this afternoon the parliamentary colonial secretary read a telegram from the Cape, saying that Captain Seagrave was dismissed from the Cape infantry service in 1885 for gross neglect of duty and breach of trust. The reading of the dispatch was followed by a scene of great disorder. The Irish members rose and cheered, and there were cries of "Pigott! Pigott!" "Remember Mitchelstown!" etc.

When quiet was restored Balfour, chief secretary for Ireland, said he suspended Seagrave, but preferred not to dismiss him until documentary evidence of his guilt had been received.

Home Secretary Matthews admitted that Andrews had visited America since the passage of the Parnell commission bill, but he did not know whether Andrews had seen Le Caron, the informer, there.

Captain Seagrave commanded the constables at Mitchelstown riots in 1887.

On the vote on Balfour's salary Morley severely criticised the government's action in carrying on a "furtive and clandestine battle behind its opponents' backs."

Bradlaugh moved that Balfour's salary be reduced by five hundred pounds.

Bradlaugh's motion was rejected—272 to 211.

Morley adduced a mass of details respecting the witnesses for the Times, with the view of disproving the government's professions of neutrality. Balfour had professed that he had not followed the proceedings of the Parnell commission with much interest. That was surprising. In regard to the proposed vote of censure, it would be irrational to propose it now, because fresh disclosures were made daily, but it would come in good time.

Balfour, amid continued opposition laughter, described the charge that the government was connected with the Times through Houstan and Pigott as a scandalous and unfounded libel. The opposition, he said, reveled in libel, while affecting to regard it as the most shocking of crimes. For asking how it was that the witnesses were intimidated, Balfour was called to order by the chairman.

Continuing, he said: "The government volunteered no information for the purposes of the commission, but they were willing to give it to the other side when required."

Sir William Vernon Harcourt said that the fact that Irish constables were subpoenaed did not make it necessary for them to remain for months in London, unless they were performing distinct services for the Times.

Bradlaugh said the government had withheld from the persons accused matter material to their defense.

Healy said that he tried to cross-examine Soames on his mode of getting up evidence, but that the Times' chief ally, Judge Smith—[The chairman, interrupting, called upon Healy to withdraw his reference to her majesty's judge.]

Balfour, again rising to answer the criticisms, taunted the Parnellites with allowing Pigott to escape after he had confessed the forgery.

O'Connor was called to order for charging Lord Salisbury and Balfour with trying to galvanize the Parnell forgeries into life again.

An exciting scene ensued, O'Connor twice refusing to withdraw his remarks so far as they concerned Lord Salisbury, amid approving cries by his colleagues.

The chairman appealed to the members on both sides to assist him in keeping order, but he did not further insist upon the withdrawal of O'Connor's remark.

O'Connor charged that the Times was equally guilty of allowing Pigott to go after he confessed the forgery.

When a division was called, Chamberlain crossed the house and sat chatting with Ritchie, member of the cabinet. His presence on the ministerial side of the house called forth from the opposition hilarious cries of, "At last in your proper place."

THE COMPTOIR D'ESCOMPTE.

A Discussion in the Chamber of Deputies Over the Recent Crisis.

PARIS, March 21.—In the chamber of deputies to-day Laure, in the discussion of the interpellation on the copper crisis, demanded that the penal code provision against monopolies be enforced. He accused the Rothschilds of causing the crisis and of leading an intentional plot against the French market, and urged the necessity of inquiring into the crisis.

Rouvier, minister of finance, ridiculed Laure's speech. The allegation against the Rothschilds, he said, was understood, and its refutation could be left to the public's good sense. The Comptoir d'Escompte would have suspended but for the assistance rendered it. The Comptoir d'Escompte deserved the government's solicitation. If any loss occurred in connection with the first loan, it would be borne by the capitalists, and not by the Bank of France. The second advance would be made by the Bank of France and fifty capitalists. The Comptoir d'Escompte's doors, therefore, would not be closed, but the Comptoir d'Escompte ought to be liquidated and replaced by an analogous institution, so necessary was it to the small and medium branches of trade. The Bank of France's action was entirely free, and the nation's thanks were due to it and to all whose aid had helped to avert a disaster, the extent of which it would be impossible to measure.

Millerand said that the government had performed only a part of its duty. It still remained to make a salutary example. He proposed an order of the day calling for immediate judicial inquiry into the copper monopoly, but it was rejected.

Laure then withdrew his motion for the enforcement of the monopoly law, and after further discussion Thomson moved an order of the day, which was adopted, declaring that the government would take the necessary steps to ascertain who were responsible for the crisis and to make a report.

THE COPPER MARKET.

The Bank of Paris Declares a Dividend of Forty Francs Per Share.

LONDON, March 21.—1:30 P. M.—Copper, firmer at £41; £44 asked.

PARIS, March 21.—2 P. M.—Societe des Metaux, 30 francs; Comptoir d'Escompte, 145 francs; Rio Tinto 393 francs and 75 centimes.

The Bank of Paris has declared a dividend of 40 francs per share. Credit Foncier shares are weak; opened at 1320 francs, and now quoted at 1303.

3 P. M.—Comptoir d'Escompte, 135 francs.

4 P. M.—At the close, Comptoir d'Escompte shares were 137 francs 50 centimes; Societe des Metaux, unchanged.

Financial Companies' shares closed heavy. Credit Foncier fell 27 francs. Rio Tinto was active, and advanced 15 francs.

IN THE REICHSTAG.

Prince Bismarck Replies to Criticisms by Herr Richter.

BERLIN, March 21.—In the reichstag to-day the estimates for increasing the horsing of artillery passed the second reading.

A bill providing for a dual administration of the naval department also passed the second reading.

In the debate on the latter bill, Bismarck, replying to Richter's criticism, showed that the responsibility of the naval authorities to the reichstag would be in no way altered. The change, he said, was a constitutional one. He declined to be responsible for the commander of the navy. The plan only involved the application to the navy of the system that had already been tested in the army, namely the placing of the admiral-in-chief at the head of the navy, as the general-in-chief was at the head of the army. Of course, the emperor was the supreme commander of both branches.

THE RIOTING IN PESTH.

One Hundred Persons Arrested Yesterday for Continuing the Outbreak.

PESTH, March 21.—The rioting was renewed here to-night. One hundred persons were arrested. The governor has issued a proclamation declaring that the severest measures will be taken with the rioters.

Prime Minister Von Tisza had an interview with Emperor Francis Joseph to-day, and received full power to stop the outbreak.

CABLE NOTES.

Count Bismarck Starts for London.

BERLIN, March 21.—Count Herbert Bismarck started to-day for London. The Boersen Zeitung says the object of the journey is to personally settle the last question at issue in connection with the rapprochement between England and Germany, and adds: "The fact that only such a divergence exists as a personal explanation can reconcile justifies the hopes of an Anglo-German alliance."

A Bloodless Duel.

PESTH, March 21.—The efforts of friends to effect a reconciliation between Deputies Polonyi and Kralitsek, who had an altercation in the chamber yesterday, were unsuccessful. The two deputies fought a duel to-day. Neither were injured.

AN INTERESTING LETTER.

OFFICE OF THE ELECTRIC LIGHT AND POWER CO., ALBANY, January 26.

Messrs. Russell & Co., Portland, Oregon—Gentlemen: Your letter of inquiry regarding the working of the sixty-horse power engine purchased is at hand. In reply will say that the engine is all you recommend it to be as to power, regulation and economy. We are running one Schuyler arc-light dynamo, forty candle power lights, and one Heisler dynamo, the former requiring about thirty-horse power and the latter twenty-five horse power. Both are fully loaded, and the friction cannot absorb less than five horse power, which is working the engine to its full guaranteed capacity; and the automatic regulation is so perfect that plunging either dynamo in or out makes no perceptible difference in the speed; and we have started the water and run all night with one cord of wood. Respectfully, N. H. ALLEN.

LOWER CALIFORNIA GOLD GRAZE.

The Quartz Rock Will Not Pay for Blasting It—Some Interesting Information.

CHICAGO, March 21.—S. E. Heckethorn gave a reporter some points concerning the Lower California gold craze. He said George Sesson, who was a Chicago real estate dealer a few years ago, went to Arizona and struck a rich mine. There he met George Hueller, and they joined forces and bought a vast tract of Mexican government lands in Lower California under a concession to the International Company at an average of 8 cents an acre. The contract provides that the International Company shall colonize and develop the country; that it shall bring 7000 settlers inside of three years, and 20,000 inside of twenty years; that for every bona fide settler there at the end of twenty years the company shall receive $60 a head for five years. On the other hand the government pledges the company entrance to all harbors on the Pacific coast and the gulf on all islands. It guarantees three steamers, to ply along the coast, $800 for a round trip whenever either of the steamers are to carry the mails; the right of way for two lines of railroad, not to exceed 375 miles in length, and $12,000 a mile for construction expenses.

This contract was entered into about two and a half years ago. Since that time the International Company has been doing a big business. It has been paying little attention to colonization, but much to the syndicates, to which it has sold land grants and tracts of 1000 to 100,000 acres, at an average price of $2 50. Things went on that way for a while, and money rolled into the International coffers in a stream. At last the Mexican government became dissatisfied. Last November Senor Romero was made a special envoy by the government to investigate the International Co. and see whether it was carrying out in good faith its part of the contract. What he learned caused him to make such a report that it was decided the company had forfeited its contract. "Three weeks ago we first heard of the rich gold mines discovered in Lower California. Twenty thousand people are there. The mines are quartz ledges, with a trace of gold in them, but not enough to pay. Besides there is no water and no possible chance for mills and placers. They wouldn't pay for a sparrow's breakfast. Clark, the International's mineralogist, has told me time and again that the quartz rock wouldn't pay for blasting in." Heckethorn is thoroughly posted as to that region.

BEHRING SEA A CLOSED SEA.

An Act Passed of the Greatest Importance to American Fishermen.

NEW YORK, March 21.—A Washington special to the Post says: President Harrison will issue a proclamation relative to Behring sea which cannot fail to attract international attention. This proclamation will be the first information which the people will have had that in the closing hours of the last congress an amendment was incorporated into the international salmon fishing act which in effect declares that Behring sea is a closed sea. The amendment in its terms extends the provisions of the salmon fishing act to seal fishing in Behring sea; that is to say, the act forbids the taking of seals by anyone not authorized by the act, in the waters of Behring sea, and does not exclude them merely from fishing on certain islands. The amendment is of course of the greatest importance to the Alaska Seal-Fur Company, as it will preserve the seal fisheries for them. It is also of great importance to American fishermen who may be planning to engage in seal fishing in the open waters of Behring sea this season, as so many of the Canadian vessels did last season. The act authorizes the vessels to be seized by the United States revenue cutters. The proclamation of the president will call attention to this fact. The act may give rise to important international complications. It is an attempt by legislative enactment to settle a question which the great powers interested may consider still an open one.

SCANDAL IN HIGH LIFE.

The Marchioness of Donegal Brings Suit for Divorce Against Her Husband.

LONDON, March 21.—The Marchioness of Donegal has brought suit for divorce against her husband on the ground of cruelty and desertion, and the case was heard to-day. The marchioness testified that she was married to the defendant in 1865. She left her husband's house in 1872. Previous to leaving, they occupied separate rooms. One night, respondent brought a friend home with him, and dragged her from her bed into the passage where the friend was. The defense produced witnesses who testified to the Marchioness of Donegal committing adultery with a groom employed by her husband and with another man.

PROBABLY COMPROMISED.

LONDON, March 21.—The case against the marquis was dismissed. The counter suit that the marquis brought against Lady Donegal was also dismissed.

THE WHEAT CROP.

March Statistical Report of the Agricultural Department.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The March statistical report of the department of agriculture gives the average weight of wheat by states: General average, 56.5 pounds, the lowest of six years. In the spring wheat region the range is from 53.5 in Dakota to 56 in Nebraska. It makes the crop equivalent to 391,000,000 bushels, sixty pounds each; less by nearly 25,000,000 bushels than the quantity in measured bushels.

NAVAL PROMOTIONS.

Admiral Luce's Retirement Causes a Number of Advancements.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Secretary Tracy has ordered Commodore Benham to command of the navy yard at Mare Island, Cal. The position is made vacant by the departure of Rear Admiral Belknap to command of the Asiatic squadron. Commodore Benham is at present awaiting orders.

Rear Admiral Stephen B. Luce has been informed by the navy department that he will be placed on the retired list on the [illegible] inst. His retirement will cause the promotion of the following officers: Commodore David B. Harmony, to be rear admiral; Captain F. M. Ramsey, commodore; Commander Wm. T. Commodore Harmony is at present chief of the bureau of yards and docks, and his four-year commission for that place expires on the 27th instant, two days after the retirement that causes his advancement. It is the general opinion at the department that he will be reappointed, in which case he will be the only rear admiral on duty at the department.

PRIVATE WORDS FOR WOMEN.

The eminent and successful electro-magnetic physicians, Drs. Darrin, have discovered and perfected a system of treatment that has caused a revolution in the treatment of female diseases. Wherever their treatment is tested and known it has done away with all dosing with nauseous drugs and surgical operations whereby so many precious lives have been lost.

As a discovery it ranks with Harvey's discovery of the circulation of the blood, and has proved in more than a thousand cases of the worst kind to be a positive cure for the following female diseases: Ovarian tumors, polypus ulceration and dropsy of the womb, inflammation, congestion and falling of the womb, leucorrhœa, painful and suppressed menstruation, flooding, frequent urination, bearing down pains, backache, headache, hacking cough, melancholy, absence of ambition, desire to live, or, in fact, any complaint having its origin in a disordered state of the generative and accompanying organs, whether from contagious diseases, hereditary, accident, tight-lacing, miscarriage or other causes.

Their method of treatment is harmless, pleasant and mild. It is applied direct to the womb without the use of instruments, can be applied by the patients themselves, thus securing correct local treatment at home, and its application is easy and painless. Its curative action on the inflamed, congested and ulcerated parts is immediate.

Drs. Darrin refrain from making public the names of hundreds of ladies who have been restored to health, with due deference to the delicacy of their afflictions.

Dr Darrin's Place of Business.

Drs. Darrin can be consulted free at Fifth street, corner of Main, Portland. Office hours, from 10 to 4 daily; evenings, 7 to 8; Sundays, 10 to 12. All curable chronic diseases, loss of manhood, blood taints, syphilis, gleet, gonorrhœa, stricture, spermatorrhœa, seminal weakness or loss of desire of sexual power in man or woman, catarrh and deafness, are confidentially and successfully treated. Cures of private diseases guaranteed and never published in the papers. Circulars sent. Most cases can receive home treatment after a visit to the doctors' office.

The offices at Salem and Eugene are closed. Any persons under treatment in that vicinity can call or write to the Portland office.

HOW TO MAKE BREAD

A Scientific and Practical Lecture to Fashionable Ladies of Chicago

Chicago Times

Mrs Harrison is a genuine cook I hear and is going to serve her guests at the White house with her own pumpkin pie

"Baking will be all the rage in Washington next winter and I'm going to take the course I want to take only the pastry course, though"

The young matron knew nothing of cooking but she was going to join because it would be fashionable

A smooth haired pleasant faced, white aproned matron stood in the parlor of the Training School for Domestic Science 1505 Michigan avenue yesterday afternoon before a crowd of women drawn there by the witchery of cookery The woman was Mrs Ada B Bailey, from the domestic economy department of Purdue university She came to teach a class how little there is in the making of a loaf of bread and how much there is in it when properly made Before her was a white grained table with a huge crockery bowl covered with a cloth and beside it were a wooden spoon three shapes of pans, and a tiny brush

"As long as women make bread according to recipe" she remarked at the close "they will have bad luck when they make it on a principle they will have success This" she said uncovering the bowl and disclosing a snowy mound of dough fluffy and puffed, "I made two hours ago"

"Oh what is your recipe?" sang out a voice

"My system you mean" was the response "This is Vienna bread which I consider best I used two cakes of yeast for this, which—"

"Nothing else?" came the voice from the same corner

"Certainly, one quart of water slightly warm then—"

"Never boil? I should think it would be economy to have it hot and save the time it would take the stove to heat it" came from a ... economist

"I will remark for the benefit of those who knew nothing about ... that the yeast ... should not be applied till baking time"

"That doesn't mean us" remarked the fur wrap to her neighbor

"Now, I will remark I put two cakes of yeast in this to shorten the time for rising Yeast soon deteriorates and bread never should be made more than five hours before baking

"Doesn't it smell?" asked a sharp nosed spinster

"Come and try now I am going to knead it a little and put in the pans to bake" and she turned the plastic batch on the floured table "Notice ladies it doesn't stick to the bowl—know why?"

"It hasn't been in long enough to soak in" a very young looking housekeeper ventured

"No I use a crockery bowl and grease it when I first put it in, the crockery bowl keeps at a more even temperature"

"Why do you use a wooden spoon with which to scrape it out?"

Anyone guess

"You haven't any other?"

"No wood is all the rage now in everything" another guessed

"No, ladies, you can't guess An iron spoon is the most barbarous weapon a woman can handle its sharpened handle cuts and hardens her hand into corns The handle of my wooden spoon is perfectly round and it is light I never use any other Another thing girls hate to practice bread making because it spreads their hands See I use only my fingers and do what little kneading is necessary with the sides of my hands Never bear down on the palm"

"Why didn't you take off your rings?"

"It's not necessary I keep on the outside of bread and make no excursions into the sticky inside Bread is much better if merely folded together several times instead of plunged into with prize-fighter thumps Mind not muscle is the secret of bread making Now it's ready for the pans please butter this one Guess why I always use Russia iron bread pans

"Cheap?"

"No"

"Expensive?"

"No"

"Have to order them at any particular firm?"

"No, they are lighter than iron and come nearest iron in retaining an even heat when the oven door is opened for a minute I have mine four inches wide and as long as my oven and I fill them half full Baking then requires about forty five minutes But suppose you are out of bread and want it for dinner Take these pans" she said holding up one made like two semi cylinders side by side "Then take two strips of dough Either wrap them in coils or take three strips and plait them put them in these pans and bake for four minutes in a very hot oven They are thoroughly heated through and delicious John will never scold if Mary provides bread like that

TRUE LEARNING

The common or public schools of American cities excite the admiration of visitors from abroad but the question of educating the masses is not by any means permanently settled The failure of public schools to meet all needs and best develop natural ability is very plainly seen but in what way to meet the difficulty is not so easy to decide Our system attempts too much In many cases efficiency in memorizing is taken or rather mistaken for learning

Civil service examinations consist of parrot like answers to set questions that any clever fellow fresh from school can answer and half the time not understand them Faithful veterans to whom all the business of the departments is familiar and who can transact and direct it with unerring skill have to stand aside to let such smartness take precedence Such an instance comes to mind in the person of a gentleman educated to the law and every way qualified who had drifted into the postal service and became a veteran raising a family in Washington But he had no hope of further preferment because he was not just from college with its cramming fresh for use Yet he was far more competent to all the business to be transacted than the fellows who could give answers to the prescribed questions Many a young man who is considered the pride of a school lives to become some sort of literary drudge while the hard-working dullard of his class grows into sterling manhood and naturally reaches high position One of the first class here in Oregon, now a hard working pedagogue once responded when some man of note was named by saying We were school mates and I always was far ahead with my lessons It was no work for me and he labored hard but he knew what he learned and I forgot half of it He is a senator in congress and I am what you see

Many live to realize that the boys we led in school lead us in after life Cramming is a mistake Thousands who have a mere memory for learning a lesson by rote get little actual knowledge by it It is not retained as it must be when the meaning is dug out by hard study President Timothy Dwight of Yale college was one who had to dig for his lessons by the hardest endeavor He took the valedictory but it was by the most determined effort There were others of his class whose lessons came easily and whose careers gave promise to be brilliant but he left them all behind when the criterion became true learning and solid character Many a lad who gives preternatural promise should be kept back and put to work on a farm a few years to gather strength and leave his mind time for natural growth

Cramming in schools would not be so unwise if it were always in the natural line of progress and native ability Schools are not a failure so far as they develop native talents Education should be practical should develop the best ability of youth as also the best line of labor instead of all running in the same rut whether the wheels track or not Our public schools are far from perfection because they attempt too much and accomplish too little They spoil many for their true avocations and cannot furnish mental caliber to excel in other lines

ELECTRIC LIGHT

Had there been no other offer for supplying the city with electric light than that of the Willamette Falls Company, the common council of Portland might have been excused for making a contract with that company for the service but even then it would have been questionable whether a public service like this or indeed any public service ought to be contracted for without first inviting competitive bids

Mr George B Markle is a well known citizen and is responsible for his undertakings When therefore he submitted to the common council a proposition to supply to the city the same light which the Willamette Falls Company proposed to supply and at cost less by over $18 000 for the term of two years the common council had no right to pass over his communication and award the contract without reference to it at the higher rates.

A mistake has been made but the mayor by interposing a veto has given the common council an opportunity to reconsider its action Of course all the people of Portland want electric power and light delivered here by the water power at Oregon City That power we have no doubt can be made to transmit electric energy to Portland at lower rates than the same can be generated here If Mr Markle should lose money through his undertaking to supply the light that would be his own affair and ultimately the Willamette Falls Company if their power can be transmitted as successfully as supposed would drive him and other competitors out of the business

The municipal government cannot afford to overlook or reject any opportunity to save the city $3000 per annum in public lighting Hence the mistake that has been made ought to be corrected The mayor's message puts the case in a very strong light

DIETETIC PECULIARITIES

The London Lancet notes the introduction into parliament of a bill to regulate the sale of horseflesh This bill provides that all horseflesh shops shall be registered Every customer must be supplied with a label on which is printed in letters not less than an inch long the word horseflesh and it is made the duty of the inspector of nuisances to keep an official eye on the quality of the meat so sold The flesh of mules or donkeys is [illegible] allowed to be included in the term designated by the label The bill is a reminder of the registering and labeling process by which congress sought a few years ago to check the sale of oleomargarine or at least to allow persons before indulging in the luxury of common tallow under the guise of butter to be properly introduced to the compound by its true name

The introduction of this bill in parliament is the first intimation that the general public has had that horseflesh is a common article of diet in London In some of the continental cities notably in Paris Vienna and Berlin horseflesh has long been a regular article of diet among the poorer classes To supply the demand in the latter city alone 7000 decrepit aged and broken down animals are required each year In Italy also thousands of the wretched poor feed upon horseflesh or indeed upon anything else that promises to keep base life afoot being absolutely indifferent as to what they eat so that it furnishes some nutriment

An investigation of the question as to what the people of any country eat is however not especially appetizing In the United States it is true the independent citizen is reasonably dainty when it comes to partaking of many articles of food by name that people of other nations relish but he will devour highly seasoned stews and other messes unquestioningly while sausage though it may like the traditional bologna be a compound of meat of any sort that is chopable is eaten with a relish and mince pie with all of its vague possibilities is taken with indifference to fate that is in its way sublime

When however we consider that gypsies and Italians admire the hedgehog as a dainty, that the negro of Virginia and North Carolina is partial to roast opossum that the natives of the West Indies devour baked snakes and palm worms fried in their own fat that Chinese consider rats a delicacy, that ants eggs served with a resinous sauce are highly relished in Brazil, and that frogs and snails have admirers among the epicures of various lands we cease to regard the habitual devourer of sausage and mince pie as a gastronomical outcast though we are constrained to regard his powers of digestion as something phenomenal

There are probably more possibilities for wretchedness in the life of the person whose stomach sentineled by keen sense of smell is perpetually inquiring into the component parts of the food that is prepared for him than in that of any other He is the terror of his wife or the dread of his landlady, as the case may be as with suspended spoon he gazes inquiringly into his bowl of soup or scrutinizes his pie carefully a mouthful at a time Better in this world of dark culinary possibilities to be like Prince Lucien Bonaparte who boasted that he could make a comfortable meal off any animal except an alligator or a turkey buzzard than to be shudderingly overnice in the matter of food

The desperate chances which employes of railroads run in plying their vocation is attested by statistics showing the number of deaths that occurred on the railroads of Iowa last year There are 8000 miles of road in that state and these are required by law to report to the state authorities the number of casualties among employes During the past ten years the sum total of these has been 2421 and last year alone 349 active robust men met death or severe injury upon the tracks in that state It is estimated that on the 150 000 miles of railroad in the United States more than 6000 men are killed or permanently disabled every year It is claimed that a very large number of the casualties are preventable and the attention of congress will be called to some of the methods which it is believed will operate beneficially in this direction

PORTLAND AND VICINITY.

GOVERNMENT WORKS ENJOINED—The city of Newport, on Yaquina bay, some time since leased to the United States government, through Captain Young, United States engineer, a portion of the water front of the city, where a wharf and tramway are being erected for the use of the engineers in constructing the north jetty at the mouth of the bay. Recently the foreman on the work has been summoned to appear before the circuit court of Benton county in the suit of Samuel Case, who wishes to enjoin the construction of the wharf and tramway and to get possession of the water front. The state deeded the water front to the city of Newport, but Mr Case alleges that the state had no right to do this and that he is entitled to possession of the property. Such cases are usually brought in the United States court and this will probably get there before it is decided. It is not probable that Mr Case wishes to interfere with the improvement of the entrance to Yaquina bay, but if he owns the property in question desires to be paid for it or for the use of it.

PAINFUL OPERATION PERFORMED—A very painful operation for the cure of hip joint disease was performed on a four year old daughter of A Hansen by Dr Rinehart a day or two since. The child was a great sufferer and must soon have succumbed and its parents determined to have an operation performed for its relief. The hip was laid open and an inch and a half sawed off the femur. The head of the femur had been broken into several pieces and the end pushed up over the pelvis about two inches. These pieces were removed with the end of the bone. The child recovered from the shock but her condition was considered very critical. If she recovers a new bone will replace the one removed and by proper treatment a joint will be formed which will enable her to walk. It is bad enough to think of such an operation being performed on a grown person, but on a delicate child it is dreadful.

LIGHT SHIP OFF THE BAR—Captain [illegible] is much pleased to know that there is to be a light ship off the mouth of the Columbia. He gives Professor Davidson the credit of being the first to advocate this. The ship will be supplied with a fog signal and light and will be a great benefit to commerce. The Tillamook light is about 15 miles away from the bar and it is not practicable to place a fog signal on the cape as it would be drowned by the noise of the breakers. The appropriation for this light ship failed to pass last congress, but by the efforts of our delegation in congress it has at length been secured. The matter was referred to the United States engineer and Captain Sebree who both recommended it. The ship should be built and equipped and in position about a year from July 1.

NOT WELL SUPPLIED.—The markets have not been so well supplied as usual of late. There is very little game as the lakes and Sauvie's island are almost entirely deserted by the swans, ducks and geese, which have flown away to the feeding grounds in the far North. It is time the snipe were here, but they have not arrived. Although it is Lent, fish of all kinds are scarce, the absence of salmon being particularly noticeable. There is plenty of beef and mutton, but veal is rather scarce. Spring lamb is beginning to come in, and affords a welcome variety. In a week or two it will be plentiful and mint will have grown and the close season for salmon will be at an end and the Deep Sea Fishing Company will be at work and the markets will afford a greater variety.

GOING TO THE DEAD LETTER OFFICE.—Letters which cannot be delivered here are sent to the dead letter office. Some of them when opened contain drafts or the name of the writer, or something which gives a clue to him, and in such cases they are returned in hope that they may be delivered to him. It is singular that so many letters are unsigned by the writer and contain no clue by which he may be found. Postmaster Roby received one the other day which contained a bank note and another in which was a draft. The bank note could not be delivered, and when the draft was traced up the man who bought it knew nothing about it, and would have nothing to do with it. So the letters will have to go back to the dead letter office again.

IT WAS ONLY A 20 POUND SALMON.—Colonel John R. Wheat not long ago sent from Portland to a friend at Kansas City a twenty pound salmon, frozen [illegible] which was put on exhibition in a public place. A Kansas City paper says: "During the entire day groups surrounded the table upon which this prince of salmon of the Pacific ocean was spread. Judge White, of the criminal court, who is one of the greatest anglers, adjourned the court, announcing that the arrival should be celebrated by some official act, that all might have an opportunity to see it. The county court also adjourned in honor of the event." What if these people had seen one of our really large salmon, one of the veritable "princes of the Pacific ocean" instead of the ordinary twenty pound fish?

THEY ALL COME TO PORTLAND.—Freight cars from half the railroads in the United States can be seen any day at the Terminal Company's ground but never, it is believed, till yesterday were any freight cars from the Canadian Pacific seen there. There are now several of these "foreign" cars there. They are loaded with reapers and mowers manufactured at Hoosac Falls, N. Y. The cars since leaving Hoosac have passed over about half a dozen different lines of railroad to find their way in here over the Short Line, and now that they have found out the way here more will be coming and Portland may now claim to have four direct lines of railroad to the East and the chances are very good for having two or three more before long.

OREGON BOYS IN THE LEAD.—Henry L. Goodman, a graduate of the Portland High school, obtained the prizes in microscopic and practical chemistry at the recent annual commencement exercises of the St. Louis school of pharmacy. Clyde A. Duniway, also a graduate of the High school recently acquitted himself with distinction as orator at the Freshmen's banquet at Cornell University, a position to which he was chosen in recognition of his championship of the lady students or "co-eds" who were admitted as equal participants in the banquet, an innovation which was hotly contested by many young gentlemen of the class. Ithaca journals highly commend Mr Duniway's address.

OFFICERS ELECTED.—At a meeting of the newly elected board of directors of the Y. M. C. A. held yesterday afternoon in the parlors of Ladd & Tilton's bank the following officers were elected to serve for one year: President, J. Sherburn Ross, vice president, W. S. Ladd, treasurer, I. A. Macrum, secretary, I. A. Kenny. It was the unanimous desire of the directors that Mr W. S. Ladd should accept the presidency, but he firmly declined to serve for the reason that he would be unable to properly supervise the workings of the institution. Mr Ladd expressed his entire sympathy with the association but thought the man who did the work should have the honor of being president.

THEY DRAW THE LINE.—There have been many complaints about the connection made by the cars running across the bridge with the motor line, and now the Motor Line Company has a grievance. [illegible] are expected to carry free all kinds of parcels from a trunk to a crate of cabbage and the other day a man [illegible] put aboard the car a small box which he requested to be taken out to Sunnyside and delivered. On examination this box was found to contain giant powder. The company draw the line at giant powder and will not carry it. They even think it is wrong for any one to ask them to do so, and will have nothing to do with the stuff.

HIS FAITH FAILED HIM.—Out in school district No [illegible] the directors have been trying to find a water supply for the school. They had a well sunk eighteen feet and found no signs of moisture. Then a believer in the "divining rod" came along and said he could find water. He was told that he would get the well paid if he did. He consulted his water witch and finding a spot where it would work he started in and sunk a hole till he got tired and his faith failed him, and he gave up the job and his belief in the magic twig. The divining rod will work well in a country where water can be found at any point.

HORSE STOLEN.—Clackamas county is infested by horse thieves. Wednesday night one of them stole a small bay mare from the stable of Fred Gage two and one half miles from Clackamas station, taking along a new saddle belonging to Antoine Sechten. The mare has a white spot in the forehead and when standing rests the left hind foot, as if lame in it. If anyone sees a man with such a horse he will do well to catch the [illegible] and report to Mr Gage. It is quite certain that the thief did not take the road to Milwaukie, as it is so bad he would not have been likely to get through.

VERY HANDSOME DISPLAY.—Yesterday was opening day at Miss A. S. Jorgensen's millinery establishment No 105 First street, and the place was crowded all the day and evening. The show windows presented a beautiful display of hats, bonnets, ribbons, flowers, feathers, etc. of the latest styles, arranged in the most tasteful manner, while the salesroom was decorated with plants, hanging baskets, etc. and with the grand display of artificial flowers, feathers, rich trimmings and elegant hats and bonnets charmed all beholders.

THE NAVAL COMMISSION.—The naval commission were waited upon yesterday by a delegation whose object was to set forth the advantages of [illegible] by Vancouver as a site for the proposed naval station for the Northwest. The commission were to go to Astoria last night to meet the Manzanita there and then to examine the Columbia for a suitable site for the naval station. Captain Rockwell of the coast and geodetic survey, will accompany them to show them all the ins and outs of the river, with which he is well acquainted.

AN ADDRESS THIS EVENING.—Rev. Thomas Van Scoy, D. D., president of Willamette University, is to address the Young People's society of St. Paul's M. E. church this evening at 7:30, on the subject of "What is an Educated Man, and What is an Educated Woman." This talented gentleman gives but this one address in our city and a crowded house will doubtless greet him. Every young man and young lady should make an effort to hear this address, on a most vital question. Admission free.

THE ROUTE EASTWARD.—Mr. Charles H. Keeshin, the courteous and efficient business manager of Mr. Frederick Warde, left last night for the Sound. After making preparations for the appearance of Mr. Warde at Tacoma and Seattle, Mr. Keeshin will leave for the East. Mr. Warde after completing his season here will appear at Tacoma, Seattle, Spokane Falls, Missoula, Butte, Helena, Denver and Omaha.

CAPITAL STOCK INCREASED.—The Portland Fruit Company yesterday filed supplemental articles of incorporation, increasing the capital stock to $150,000.

SALE OF WRECKAGE.—The sale of the wreckage taken from the stranded steamer Yaquina Bay, took place at [illegible] Tuesday morning. The articles offered for sale were of great variety and were knocked down at about one-fourth of their original cost. A large crowd was in attendance and the bidding at times was quite lively, but few who went expecting to get fine bargains in clothing and furniture were doomed to disappointment, as most of the articles offered for sale were badly damaged by salt water.

A TOUGH JOB.—Several persons who have been looking over the route of the proposed Johnson creek sewer, with a view of bidding on the work, say it is likely to prove a pretty tough job. From F street to the head of the sewer it runs through rock or gravel, which is about as bad as rock. There is also a question as to whether, if the work is begun before the amendments to the charter go into effect, it will be possible to collect interest on the warrants after they become due.

FERRY BOATS.—The Vancouver ferry boat Albina No. 2, is at the Portland shipyard undergoing a thorough overhauling. The company procured one of the Stark street ferry boats to take her place, but she could not be used as she had no steering gear, so the Albina ferry was taken to Vancouver and the Stark street boat put on the Albina line. The Albina No. 2 is to be fixed so that she can make the trip across the Columbia in five minutes.

LAST OF THE BANKERS' MUTUAL.—Wednesday morning Receiver D. R. Murphy sold at public auction the office fixtures of room No. 21, Union block, recently occupied by the defunct Bankers' Mutual Relief Association, which wound up its affairs owing to its inability to satisfy the judgment of R. D. Freeborn, formerly a member. The furniture sold for $39.

STRICKEN WITH PARALYSIS.—At 11:30 yesterday morning S. T. Hanlon, of Astoria, was stricken with paralysis while passing Third and D streets. A physician was immediately summoned, and on examining Hanlon he found that his left side was paralyzed. The stricken man was removed to the Portland hospital, where he now lies. His condition is said to be critical.

A BODY RECOVERED.—A letter was received in this city yesterday stating that Robert Harris of Rainier, had found the body of an unknown man in the Cowlitz river. It later developed that the floater is all that was mortal of a cook known as "Toby," who fell off the steamer Lurline about ten days ago. Toby leaves a wife in Seattle.

BUCKLEY'S CONDITION WORSE.—The case of William Brown, who stabbed "Tough" Buckley in the abdomen several nights since, was again continued without date in the police court yesterday, it being reported that the wounded man's condition had changed for the worse. Buckley, however, is not in a very critical condition.

A DENIAL.—Mr Thomas B Ayres, proprietor of the Comique saloon, called at this office last evening and stated that the man who fell in a fit on Fourth street between Taylor and Salmon had not been in his place of business previous to the attack. In fact he had never seen the party referred to.

PREPARING FOR THE SEASON.—Cannerymen are preparing for the season's work. Some are getting to work making cans, others are engaging men and some are purchasing horses here for drawing seines. Seines and traps will do a good share of the fishing this year.

AN ERROR.—Inadvertently THE OREGONIAN made an error in the price stated for the India silks on sale to-day at Meier & Frank's. The types read 38 cents per yard, and should have been 83 cents per yard, as will be found quoted in their "ad." to-day.

SUPPOSED TO BE INSANE.—Gotfried Reschke, a carpenter, is held at the county jail for examination as to his sanity. The other day he went into a bank and demanded $5000, and when the favor was refused he became noisy and was removed by a policeman.

COMING IN.—Case after case of New York Goods are being opened at J. Selling & Co's. To-day big display of embroideries. Prices astonishingly low. To-morrow last day of children's school shoe sale.

SLOW TAX COLLECTING.—The collection of taxes progresses slowly. To date Sheriff Kelly has collected between $140,000 and $150,000, leaving about $108,000 outstanding.

THE BEST YET.—In Towne's show case is a boudoir photo of the Railroad bridge which is by far the best yet seen of that structure. "Take your babies to Towne."

Our Grand Opening

Last evening, of Spring and Summer Goods, both in Staple lines and Novelties, was an immense success, and exceeded by far our most sanguine expectations. We expected a crowd and had a regular jam. It was a good-natured jam however and every one seemed to be in good humor. We promised our friends and the public the grandest spread ever given in Portland. We think we made our word good, in fact we are sure of it, for we received on all sides words of praise for our beautiful goods, and favorable mention for the manner in which they were displayed. For the pleasure of many that may not have been able to attend last evening, we shall continue the same display and decorations for the balance of the week, thus affording all an opportunity of viewing and examining one of the grandest collections of high novelties ever brought together under one roof. We would direct your attention to our

Millinery Department

In particular, where you will not only find the latest Eastern craze, but a magnificent collection of the very newest of Parisian Novelties. One visit to our Millinery Parlors will convince the most skeptical of our Portland ladies that our claim of being the bon ton establishment of the city, and of always showing the most elegant bonnets and more of them than any house in the line, is founded on facts, and is not mere advertising talk. We are Leaders, not imitators, and if you desire a bonnet or hat different from anything any one else has, in fact a creation of an artist in the business, we can produce it for you. Can you secure this result elsewhere?

Fancy Goods Department

In this department you will find a very rich display of Ribbons, Fans, Gloves, Laces, Persian Trimmings, Silk Hosiery and Underwear. Take your time here, for if you do not you will miss many pretty and useful articles. We prided ourselves on our selections last season. Our buyers have outdone themselves this spring, and our shelves and counters groan under the weight of new goods. When you have finished your survey of this department, cross over to our

Dress Goods Department

Here you will find a vast assortment of Foreign and Domestic Silks, Silk-and Wool and All-Wool Dress Materials. No establishment in the city can show a larger or finer collection of elegant fabrics, and few can equal ours. You will now pass to the rear into our

Domestic Department

This is the room where we will show you our assortment of Summer Dress Fabrics, such as French and American Satines, Scotch Zephyrs, Chambrays, Leather Ginghams, Seersuckers, Dotted and Flowered Swiss, India Muslins, Nainsooks, etc. Also contains our Linens, Toilet Spreads, Comforts, Upholstery Goods, Cloths, Sheetings, Prints and Ginghams. Then you enter our

Cloak Department

Well stocked with Spring Wraps of all descriptions, including Beaded Mantles, Peasant Gowns, Light Weight Ulsters and Jackets. Here you will find an elegant line of Shawls in Shetland and Berlin Wools, Cashmere Shawls in black and colors, and last, but not least, a fine line of B. PRIESTLEY & CO.'S BORDERED HENRIETTA SHAWLS. We will now pass on to our Shoe Department.

As neat and attractive as ever, with a stock second to none on this coast. We have added several new and attractive lines in LADIES' AND CHILDREN'S WEAR, and it will be well worth your time to investigate this department very closely. We can serve you with either fine or medium grades of goods, as may suit your purse and fancy. And now we have a surprise in store for you. This is our Clothing Department.

You don't recognize it, do you? Neither do we, any more. We have to pinch ourselves to make sure we are not dreaming. It is the same place however, only in an entire new dress from the front to the rear, and is without question the handsomest clothing room in the city, and the new stock is in keeping with the surroundings. We are now better prepared than ever to clothe the children, boys, youths, or men, and invite you, one and all, to give the Clothing Department a call. Do not for one moment imagine that we cannot fit you out with a fine suit. We have them just as costly as you may wish and if you do not desire them ready made, we are prepared to make them to order.

DOES CHARITY BEGIN AT HOME?

General Sherman, General Schofield, ex-President Hayes, General Grant's widow, Chauncey Depew and a good many other [illegible] persons hasten to contribute liberally to the foundation of the Texas Home for Confederate Soldiers. The argument urged for this charity is that the United States government takes care of the Union soldier; that the ex-Confederate soldier can expect nothing of the government which would stultify itself by pensioning those who battled to destroy it, and that therefore the ex-Confederate soldier has to trust to the tender mercies of the [illegible] Southern states [illegible] for the richest states of the South [illegible] refuse to tax themselves for the primary education of their children [illegible] states of barren New England. This is the argument pleaded to secure the contributions of Union men to aid Homes for ex-Confederate veterans.

If it be true that the government does care for all the helpless and pauperized Union veterans, then it is legitimate for large-hearted opulent Union men to contribute to a Southern charity, not, however, because these men were Confederate soldiers, but because they are paupers whom the South is either too poor or too mean to support decently. But it is not true that the United States government or the governments of the Northern states take care of the dependent and pauperized Union veteran. Neither the public bounty of the federal or the state government nor private benevolence has as yet been ample and adequate for caring for the dependent Union veteran. The G. A. R. does what it can, but its means are limited, because the mass of its members belong to the great decent middle class in America that make a decent living but never get rich. The pension laws exclude a Union veteran from a pension unless he can show that his disability was acquired in service. There are thousands of gallant men who fought through the war that, like Sheridan, Sherman, Thomas, Schofield, Humphreys, Warren, Slocum, Couch, Ayres, Griffin, while always in the front at the post of danger, never got a wound. There are thousands of others who received wounds that do not entitle them to a pension to-day for disability, and yet many of these men find themselves at upwards of 50 years of age in difficult circumstances. They are too manly to lie and pretend that their bodily infirmities are due to their military service, and yet they are infirm and poor. Jack Falstaff was a cowardly soldier, but he spoke the truth when he said that he "served bravely who came off the breach with his pike bent bravely;" and there be thousands of brave Union veterans who did stout soldiership, came off the breach with their pikes bravely bent and yet without a serious wound. Now are these Union veterans, who cannot technically claim a pension and are in needy circumstances, decently well cared for by the Federal and state governments and by private benevolence? If they are, why then this recent passion among Northern Union men to found a home in Texas for ex-Confederate soldiers stands justified like any other popular effort at the North to help the South, like the contributions to the "yellow fever fund"—although we believe in decency the rich Southern states, like Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and Texas, ought to be ashamed to let their Confederate veterans lean on Northern benevolence for decent support. A state too stupid to tax itself sufficiently decently to educate its illiterates might have manliness enough to tax itself to care decently for the survivors of that gallant army that spent its blood like water for its section. But the truth is, while the South are a brave people they have more wordy sentimentalism in their chivalry than the Northern Yankee, whose cold, sluggish pugnacity they deride.

One would never expect a romance to come from Kansas City—the bustling, thriving, ambitious city that has astonished the Western world and made Chicago and St. Louis wild with envy at its phenomenal development. Yet Kansas City has recently reproduced the story of two babies, changed in their cradles, the death of one and the puzzle as to the identity of the "quick and the dead." To intensify the interest in the case, a fortune of $250,000 and a scheming step-mother are involved, thus furnishing material for a first class novel, with the plot carefully outlined. The story is that a man named Barber died in that city a month ago, leaving to his second wife the fortune before mentioned. His son John K. has appeared upon the scene claiming to be the child who, in the confusion attending his birth and his mother's death, which events occurred the same hour, was mixed up with a cousin but a few hours old. The first point in controversy is whether John is John, or whether he is his cousin. In view of the confusion in identity, the young man finally yielded to the solicitations of friends and assumed the role of cousin, his step-mother paying him $50,000 to drop the matter. It was an unfortunate feature in the case that the "strawberry on the left arm" was missing, thus making an important break in the chain of evidence.

NOTE AND COMMENT.

[illegible] Reed, of Bay Center, W. T., has discovered how to put up fresh oysters and have them keep fresh for some time. Astoria gets these cans and they find the oysters within all in good order. If any man deserves honor it is the one who makes it possible to get good fresh oysters in season and out of season. The oyster is not so much a luxury as a [illegible] of importance. It is healthy food, and [illegible] and bring them fresh and sweet and cheap enough to eat at a common [illegible] will be appreciated. [illegible] Mr. Reed should [illegible] an oysterman.

Vol. I, No. 1, Lane county [illegible], an enterprising bit of work to advertise that county, and shows that the people of Eugene are alive to the need of the times and determined to deserve their share of the general prosperity. The sheet in question contains a description of Lane county that deserves a very wide publication, and it is truthful as well as effective. There is not a portion of this valley richer in good qualities, better worth seeking for a home, or in any way can excel this great county, that, as the [illegible] says, reaches 150 miles east and west, from the Cascade summits to the shore of the Pacific, or that contains greater variety of landscape and soil.

What will European nations think to see all the Confederate veterans [illegible] from their [illegible] places [illegible] question [illegible] represent the United States [illegible] No wonder they started a race [illegible] was only [illegible] horns of brass that was wanting to keep the [illegible] heads and pates.

How many thoughtless people suffered when the winds howled a few days ago and washed the beautiful sunshine back, but they little thought of the good the storm could do. While the denizens of cities might think thus, all the sons of the soil rejoiced that a blessing was being poured out. All along the Pacific coast for over a thousand miles, the farmer, the fruitgrower, the stockraiser, all the varied industries that till the soil from the Rocky mountains to the ocean shore, were thankful that the wished-for rains had come. It is hardly possible to count the worth of that bountiful rain, for its blessing was spread far and near, reaching the growing fields, the blooming orchards and vineyards, the verdant pastures and thickly planted gardens, converting much that was doubt into certainty and insuring prosperity over the great Pacific region. Yesterday, as it were, there was doubt and anxiety over a great portion of this territory, but to-day every face is cheerful with exulting hope. There is value in a blessing that comes to the soil because it is so far reaching. It blesses all who use the soil, and when they are prospered the smile of fortune goes to all who deal with them. The country is blessed; the city is alive with trade. Ships have rich cargoes; railways send out loaded trains. Commerce and manufactures thrive when agriculture is favored.

According to the Idaho Statesman the republican party in that territory is united and harmonious and in splendid condition to make a fight for the new state organization. Mr. Dubois, who represents the party on [illegible] was reelected by a majority that makes the success of republicans in the future a foregone conclusion. Idaho has followed the general [illegible] set by Western territories and has become republican, whereas until recently it was naturally democratic. There is every prospect that this will be a fifth state to be [illegible] for the next congress will not [illegible] Idaho should [illegible] as was that of Dakota and Washington years ago.

Nothing can be fairer than the way in which [illegible] who own and manage the Helena [illegible] refuse to accept or even tolerate the insinuations of the democratic press of the territory, that young Harrison has been improperly favored in being awarded the territorial printing. The [illegible] young Harrison as a good citizen and [illegible] It politely declines to consent any party [illegible] The Herald is holding [illegible] until [illegible] for the new state [illegible] should receive an abundant reward.

The [illegible] very sensibly says Astoria's true policy is [illegible] railroad [illegible] by making [illegible] growth of [illegible] North [illegible] No man of sense [illegible] the future importance of Astoria. [illegible] as fast as these things are done, Astoria will prosper. Besides, she will possess industries and enterprises native to salt water, and thrive by means she now does not possess or know of, but that will surely come as time comes.

A popular rhymster certifies that from his personal knowledge Private Secretary Halford does not whistle. Some frivolous scribbler, it seems, has said he does. Suppose he did. What more probable than that a gentleman called on to follow the footsteps of the late lamented Lamont should whistle to keep his courage up? The old poet said:

"He whistled as he went for want of thought,"

but it is often your absorbed thinker who pours out a little whistle that is just accompaniment enough for gentle or genteel thoughts, and should be considered a fine art in its way. We have all heard that sad fates fall to "whistling girls and crowing hens," but that is only hearsay; the presidential secretary has a perfect right to whistle so long as he doesn't discharge his duties with a "whistle down the wind."

How few really appreciate the true and indispensable value of the horse. Whatever the size or class, from the little Shetland to the great Norman-Percheron, or shire horse, through all the intermediate grades, the animal is man's friend and best servant. How honest he is. What more beautiful thing than the dam and foal—the graceful mother in tender pasture and her beautiful colt! In all life's meanderings and turnings, see how cleverly the great team takes the loaded wain—the well-groomed roadsters haul the coach, or the quick trotter sends along the light wagon or neat buggy. The saddle horse comes with steady gait, on paved city streets are great trucks that carry tons on tons, down to the family phaeton with mother and daughter; everywhere the horse, and not least on the sliding-street railway, but soon the motor will spare the horse this work. It is [illegible] time and in the farming world "the teams are afield." The sturdy span take their way and the men furrow turns to the sun behind them as they go. Everywhere the horse! How many a poor beast feels the touch of friendly hands and [illegible] and [illegible] And many do not receive such care and sympathy—go to their stalls uncared for, the very hay and oats grudgingly given [illegible] When that last account [illegible] "The merciful man is merciful to his beast."

Foreigners are sometimes quite surprised at the efficiency of American schools. Professor Tyndall is not easily impressed, but he was hardly willing to accept the performance of a class of young ladies in the Washington high school as a normal performance. His surprise increased when the lady principal [illegible] her pet class in astronomy. He knew the directors had several days [illegible] to visit the school, and it occurred to him they might have thought it worth while to cram a few classes for his benefit. This study of astronomy does not come within Professor Tyndall's particular scope, but he was well up in it, as it was a favorite science. When the class had about finished he broke out with, "Madam, may I take the class?" "Certainly," and she handed over the book. But he needed no book, and from memory put question after question, yet, to his profound astonishment, every question was promptly answered. He [illegible] for in his earnest ness he sat with his elbows on the table and his hands in his hair—and propounded more difficult queries, to have them all answered correctly. So he gave up, remarking: "Madam, I will confess that your American schools surprise me." Now the worthy scientist was rather swindled in this little performance, though in an entirely honest way. The lady teacher was herself deeply interested in astronomy and made it a favorite study. This class had caught her interest and had just completed a full review of the study, so was well prepared for examination. It is not always our public schools meet with such success in such an encounter.

A GOOD WORD FOR OREGON.

New York Sun.

What a glorious country we have! What astounding resources we enjoy. Here are the dispatches from Oregon about the opening of new timber ranges in the Cascade mountains. We are told that the Cascades, which have been opened up by a new railroad, are covered with magnificent forests of [illegible] growth, forests of cedar, larch, [illegible], laurel, oak, ash, sugar pine, [illegible] maple and other valuable trees that are ready for all uses known to the arts, and that constitute a variety of timber surpassing that found in any other part of the United States, even Michigan, Maine or Georgia. We are also told that mineral beds and coal mines have been discovered in the same region, and that the fertile farming lands but await the hand of industry to give abundant crops of cereals. We are disposed to believe these wonderful reports from Oregon. All that the state needs for the development of its resources is population. It can sustain twenty millions of people besides the half million now living there.

SUPPLYING ELECTRIC LIGHT.

PORTLAND, March 21.

To the Editor of The Oregonian:

Inasmuch as my letter on electric light matters before the city council, and the reply of Mr. Eastham, president of the Willamette Falls Electric Light Co., has resulted in an offer to do the city lighting for $15,000 less than the rates proposed by the water power company, allow me to congratulate Mr. Eastham for his able elucidation of the matter, which has demonstrated that Mr. Markle with a steam plant can outbid him by so large a majority. I must confess, in my ignorance on the subject, that I supposed water power was cheaper than steam. But Mr. Eastham's professions and Mr. Markle's bid prove to the contrary.

As for the action of the city council in favoring Mr. Eastham with a unanimous vote, it seems that they are all converts to the ideas of the late Mr. Harrington, who disapproved of the introduction of immigration and capital into the county, because it would trench on the toes of those now here. It is very presumptuous on the part of Mr. Markle to disturb the agreeable relations that exist between the city council and the Willamette Falls Electric Light Company, and the effort to save the city $15,000 in two years received a merited rebuke, as newcomers have no right to obtrude themselves and uproot vested rights. The [illegible] enmity which followed the adoption of the [illegible] away. [illegible], however, was very [illegible] they should have waited until public opinion had [illegible] on its judgment of the council [illegible] leaving a [illegible] as it were.

FOREIGN FEATHERED SONGSTERS.

A Correspondent Lays a Serious Charge Against the Predatory Nature of the Starling.

PORTLAND, Or., March 21.

To the Editor of The Oregonian:

Among the feathered foreign songsters to be set at liberty in this vicinity during the present spring are the "starling" and "skylarks." And as many who are interested in our little guests may not be aware of the fact, a very serious charge has been made against "Mr. Starling." No doubt some of your readers, who, like myself, are not attentive ornithologists, would be glad to learn whether any positive proof of his guilt has ever been to your knowledge established.

For the past decade or so the skylarks throughout the British islands have been steadily decreasing in numbers and some years since a great deal of controversy took place on the subject. The starling was readily accused of spoiling the nest of the skylark. The former mostly feed in the meadows and hayfields where the latter builds its nest in the roots of the grass, and its little hatching-house consequently easily falls a prey to the enemy. It has often been shown and has many times come under my own observation that in fields after having been scoured by flocks of crows and starlings, which they often do together in vast numbers, that the nests of the skylarks have been torn up and the broken eggshells left scattered around.

But the question arises as to who did it. Rural sentiment and circumstantial evidence has usually gone hard against the starling. Many theories have been set up in his defense, such as the effect of severe winters and the depredations of the crows, etc., all of which may have had some effect, although the British hawk is not by any means such a vicious bird as our own common crow.

One thing is certain, that in many localities crows and larks have lived and increased for generations together, while invariably as the starling has [illegible] numbers the skylarks have [illegible] until in some places, especially in the North, they have almost entirely disappeared where they used to abound by the tens of thousands. Both birds are valuable additions to the imported collection. The skylark, especially, is one of the most charming and wonderful of warblers, but from its natural habits, is peculiarly exposed to many dangers, and it is to be hoped that his safety may not be seriously jeopardized by the presence of his foreign brethren. Yours, etc., I. A. T.

[As we are to have the skylarks and the starlings, each species will have to take its chance, and let the doctrine of the survival of the fittest be exemplified. If the starlings prey on the larks, some other bird will make things even with the starling. If the larks were to be exterminated in this way, they would have been extinct long ago. There is no use in worrying over the matter. "What is to be will be." The birds will be brought here and set at liberty in this free and glorious country, where there is room for all, and it is to be expected that they will multiply and flourish. If they eat one another up, till none are left, the country will be just where it was before as to birds.

DOWN WHERE THE TIDES COME IN.

Astoria's Population—Fish Traps—Railroad Bids—A Rough Bar—Fine Sight.

Astorian and Pioneer, March 20.

The present population of Astoria is about 5500.

There will be more fish traps in the river this year than ever before.

Astoria's gardens are full of trees in bud and blossom and many are leafing out. Many beautiful flowers are also in full bloom in the open air.

Mrs. Owens Adair has been ill at her residence in this city since the 15th inst., and yesterday her physician pronounced her disease typhoid fever.

From the large number of cannery crews that are going north this spring, one would infer that portions of that undeveloped country will be pretty thickly populated this summer.

Bids for railroad ties were opened at the office of the Astoria and South Coast Railway Company yesterday. There was evidently a misunderstanding of the specifications on the part of some of the bidders which will delay the letting of the contract for a day or two.

"I've got 'em again," said a man yesterday, as rubbing his eye he saw what seemed to be a sea serpent wriggling along Third street. It proved to be a string of net floats on the end of a line that was tied to a moving truck three blocks ahead of the end of the line.

A remarkable sight was witnessed about 10 o'clock last evening in the shape of a rainbow of celestial brightness. It appeared to start in at Chinook beach, and formed a beautiful arch over the gateway of the Columbia. It was a clear white color, and was preceded by several flashes of lightning.

The bar was rougher yesterday than it has been any time this year. The observer at Fort Canby reported it "very rough" in the morning, and the [illegible] on Mr. Wilson's bulletin, in front of the Occident, made it look like the teeth of a crosscut saw. Mr. Wilson's contrivance for foretelling these storms is a wonderful arrangement, so reliable is it that on Sunday he told Captain Pohlmann, of the Oregon, that if he did not get out at [illegible] forty-eight hours.

CENTRALIA NEWS NOTES.

CENTRALIA, March 19.

The "Wolverine" saloon has also been sold for $[illegible]. Other large sales are daily made.

There is a great demand for shingles. They are selling at $1 per thousand right here on the cars.

Mr. Will Washburn, of the firm of Washburn & [illegible], has disposed of his pretty residence for $[illegible].

Mr. Clifton Coulter is now in Portland purchasing a shingle mill, which he will put in about one mile from [illegible].

Messrs. Bond, [illegible] & Company will start work in about three weeks. These two men alone will find employment for fifty men.

Mr. Bean's mill, now on the way from Michigan, will be located in the south end of town. Its capacity will be [illegible] feet per day.

The hotel in the new addition will be completed about May. It is a very handsome structure, and the only three story building in Lewis county.

Episcopal services have been resumed in Centralia and will be held in the Y. M. C. A. hall for the present under Rev. R. M. Johnson, of Chehalis.

Two new mills will soon be in operation in the new addition. Messrs. Swartnout & Stone are shipping their mill from Michigan. It has a capacity of 30,000 feet per day, and 50,000 shingles.

The watchman at the Centralia Lumbering Company's mine had a narrow escape the other night. While wheeling the sawdust to the river bank the bar gave way, precipitating the barrow into the Chehalis river, and the watchman fell through the [illegible] down the bank. He, however, struggled through without any serious injury, and tooting the whistle other hands went to the rescue of the barrow.

A rousing meeting was held last Wednesday to settle the question about the Grow seminary. Judge Green from Seattle, Rev. A. B. Banks, Dr. [illegible] and the Rev. Bevan, were present. Both Centralia bands were present and furnished excellent music which enlivened the meeting. Mr. George Washington subscribed $[illegible] and Mr. Henry Hansen $[illegible], Mr. Buckner and the Eastern [illegible] company each subscribed $1000.

PERSONAL AND GENERAL.

Senator Ingalls now wears, in addition to his other personal adornments, a peculiarly happy smile. He has not only been elected president pro tem. of the senate, but he is on visiting terms with the White House.

B. P. Shillaber ("Mrs. Partington"), is living at Chelsea, a Boston suburb, "waiting for the better life," as he says, "with pen, paper, pipe and pills," still minding his p's, as it were. Mr. Shillaber is 74 years old and crippled by rheumatism.

Mrs. Helen S. Conant will probably succeed Miss Booth as the editor of Harper's Bazar. Mrs. Conant is the widow of Stillman S. Conant, editor of Harper's Weekly, who so mysteriously disappeared about three years ago, and of whom no trace has ever been discovered.

It is estimated that the present population of the United States is 64,000,000. The total increase is said to be 100,000 a month, exclusive of immigration, and last year the increase by immigration was [illegible]. At this rate the next census, which will be taken in July, 1890, will show about 67,000,000.

Secretary Blaine was going up in the state department elevator the other day, in company with various applicants for consulates etc., when some one recalled Senator Evarts's remark when he was secretary of state under Hayes, that he had never seen the latter collection taken up for foreign missions.

One of the questions put to the school children of Cambridge, Mass., the other day was "What is a skeleton?" Among the answers were these: "When anybody dies the flesh drops up to the bones and makes a skeleton." "A skeleton is bones in the museum." "When you die the doctor can make a skeleton of you." "When you grow into a skeleton you are sent to Harvard college to [illegible]"

Mrs. Humphrey Ward has evolved a new scheme for the [illegible] of her literary works. Having completed the manuscript of another novel, she [illegible] turned the tables on her publishers [illegible] the manner of the most stately government [illegible] for proposals, she [illegible] proposals from publishers for the [illegible] her book and will then decide between them.

President Harrison and every member of his cabinet, excepting Secretaries Proctor and Rusk, are Presbyterians. Secretaries Blaine and Windom attend the Church of the Covenant. The New York Avenue Presbyterian church will have [illegible] cabinet officers among its attendants for the next few years. President Harrison has a great admiration for Rev. Dr. Fullerton, who preaches to a small congregation in Georgetown. As senator the president used to go over to [illegible] nearly every Sunday morning, even though he had a pew in a Washington church.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST.

A Quarrel Between Two Young Men at Star, Idaho, Results in a Murder.

The Port Townsend Southern—The Constitutional Convention—Proposed New Lines of the Oregon Short Line

The Idaho Statesman brings the intelligence of the murder of a young man by the name of Green Shelton by W. E. Bedell, which occurred at Star, a few miles from Boise City, on Saturday afternoon. The parties had not been on friendly terms for some time and on the day in question they met each other in the road, Shelton being on horseback. Shelton rode past Bedell and then turned around and said to him: "I understand, Bedell, that you have been packing a six-shooter for me." Thereupon Bedell began firing at Shelton with a revolver, shooting three times, when Shelton fell dead from his horse. Bedell then took Shelton's horse and struck out for the mountains near Payette river, and he has not yet been apprehended, though the sheriff and posse are after him. Bedell's description is as follows: Five feet ten inches in height; weight, 150 pounds; dark brown hair, inclined to be curly; well built; wild glassy eyes, brownish color; short brown moustache, otherwise smooth face. He was wearing a bluish colored [illegible] double breasted sack coat, dark pants with check, and was riding a gray horse with black mane and tail, without a saddle.

PORT TOWNSEND SOUTHERN RAILWAY

Surveying the Route From Union City to the Chehalis River.

Port Townsend [illegible].

Last Saturday Chief Engineer Hogg, accompanied by J. A. Tilton, left Union City on a reconnoitering trip over the country that the line of the Port Townsend Southern will take.

The course taken was up the Skokomish river about five miles. They went through Pretty's pass. From thence southwest over the [illegible] to Lake Nahwatzel. From the lake they continued in a southern direction until they crossed the east fork of the Satsop. From there they crossed the middle fork of the same stream. From the river no difficulty was experienced in reaching the Chehalis valley.

The topography of the country between Union City and Chehalis river is comparatively level, with the exception of the rise from the Skokomish river to the bench where the survey made by Engineer von Schmieden developed a 4 per cent grade per mile.

Mr. Hogg is now thoroughly satisfied that the road can be built from Port Townsend to the Chehalis river as cheaply as can any other line in the territory, and the magnificent country that will be opened to settlement would at once furnish traffic enough to pay for operating the road.

The belt of timber stretching from Hood's canal to the Chehalis valley is, Mr. Hogg considers, one of the most valuable and extensive in the territory, and that means in the world.

The reconnoissance party under Assistant Engineer von Schmieden are progressing very favorably. One day last week they made thirty miles.

THE CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION.

Delay in Making the Apportionment—About 1875 Votes to Each of 25 Districts.

Tacoma Ledger.

Colonel N. H. Owing, territorial secretary, talked to a Ledger reporter yesterday at some length about the constitution, apportionment and other territorial matters.

"The delay in making the apportionment," said he, "is because we had received no official notification that an enabling act had been passed. Governor Semple telegraphed the secretary of state, and yesterday received a copy of the act. Now we have been notified the work will be done as soon as possible."

"The act states that the population must be the basis of apportionment, does it not?"

"Yes, that is what it says, but we cannot literally follow it in that regard. We have no basis of population that can be depended upon. The last government census was taken in 1880. That is too far back, and the territorial census is not reliable. The act says that the basis of population shall be followed 'or as near as may be.' We will have to follow the 'near as may be' part, and that will be the last territorial election, which was last fall. That is the most intelligent way to arrive at it."

"How many delegates will there be in the convention?"

"Seventy-five—twenty-five districts in the territory of three members each. There will be about 1875 voters to a district on the basis that I have mentioned. About 45,000 votes were cast in the last election.

"The difficulty in the job will be in arranging the precincts of a district so that they will be contiguous," he continued. "For instance, King county has so and so many voters. There may be more than enough to make one, two or three districts, and the number that remain will have to be joined with the precincts of another county to make a complete district."

"How many delegates will Tacoma be entitled to?"

"What was your last total vote?" he asked.

"About 3700."

"Then on the basis mentioned the city will be entitled to one full, and a fraction of a delegate."

"When will you get to work?"

"I am going back to Olympia now in hope that something may be done to-morrow. The governor is ready, and we hope that we shall be able to induce Chief Justice Burke to act with us."

"Why not Hanford?"

"He has not qualified yet."

"It is reported, colonel, that Governor Semple, Chief Justice Burke and yourself met at Olympia last week to begin the work, but that you could not agree and nothing was consequently done."

"That is not true," replied the territorial secretary. "We did not do anything because official notice, as I said, had not been received."

"What will be the political complexion of the constitutional convention?"

"Republican, beyond a doubt."

"The enabling act fixes a date, colonel, when the constitutional convention shall be held, and when the constitution shall be submitted to, and voted on by the people. The first is July 4, and the latter a date in October. If the constitution when voted on is not accepted by the people, what will be the result?"

"The result will be that that settles it. In other words, we won't be admitted to the Union—that's what it means."

"So that the only voice or opportunity the people at large will have in moulding the constitution will be while it is being constructed?"

"That is the time to make themselves heard."

"Will there be any special features of the constitution?"

"I think there will be two separate sections of the constitution. One for woman's suffrage and the other prohibition."

"Will the woman's suffrage section be adopted, in your opinion?"

"No, because only males are allowed to vote upon it. It will be defeated."

"And what, in your opinion, will be the fate of the prohibition section?"

"The same."

"How is that?"

"Because that is a crank feature, and the people of Washington territory in the aggregate," said the territorial secretary with a suave smile, "represent a higher type of civilization than any other political subdivision of the United States, whether state or territory. The last government census shows that the per cent of illiteracy in Washington territory is less than in any other state or territory of the United States."

MONEY IN HOUSES.

Structures That Pay in Rentals Their Original Cost Every Three Months.

Spokane Falls Review.

In no place is there a city where there is such a crying demand for houses as in Spokane Falls. Hundreds of people get off the trains every day and find every hotel and lodging house full to overflowing. At the rate the city is filling up before long people will have to begin to put up tents in which to live until they can build houses. Many of the smaller houses in the city are paying 40 per cent on their value every year, and one block on Sprague street pays in rentals every three months the cost of construction. Any person who puts up any kind of a structure rents it for whatsoever he chooses to ask, and the cry is still for more houses. Building and loan associations will find Spokane a profitable field for their operations, and it is hoped they will turn their attention this way speedily.

WASHINGTON.

A Board of Trade will be organized at Orting.

Professor D. Bemiss, of Fort Scott, Kas., has accepted the position of superintendent of the Spokane Falls city schools.

Daniel McKay, an aged Scotchman, of Tacoma, has been sent to the insane asylum, because of loss of memory and melancholia.

Prisoners in the county jail at Tacoma are all confined in one room, and the grand jury has made a report stating that it regards such imprisonment as pernicious.

John Craig has been appointed auditor of the Seattle, Lake Shore & Eastern railroad, vice F. A. Allen, who has taken the position of general passenger and freight agent. J. [illegible] Shephard has been appointed assistant treasurer of the company.

Charles Schanno, who died recently at Yakima City, aged [illegible] years, was born in Alsace and moved to the Yakima country twenty-three years ago. He was the founder of Yakima City and at one time was a very wealthy man but died poor. The funeral was held under the auspices of the Odd Fellows and was largely attended. Mr. Schanno leaves a wife and [illegible] children.

Cigars From Yakima Tobacco.

Yakima Herald.

Vice-President William Ker, of the Moxee company, left for Portland Monday to make the necessary arrangements for starting a cigar factory on the Moxee. It will be remembered that some time ago Mr. Ker, as an experiment, had some of the Moxee tobacco, of the crop of 1887, made up into cigars. Some of these were so excellent and were so highly appreciated that orders for a number of thousand were received. This has induced Mr. Ker to take the present step. The crop of 1888 is pronounced fully [illegible] per cent better in quality than that of 1887, owing to experience and knowledge gained in the growing, and experts claim that cigars made from this tobacco will excel any made from domestic leaf. A sweating machine has already been received, and Mr. Ker, while in Portland, will place the contracts for boxes and labels, and secure competent hands to do the manufacturing.

THE OREGON SHORT LINE.

Its Intention to Construct Branch Lines in Idaho, Montana, Utah, Arizona, Nevada, California and Oregon.

Amended articles of incorporation of the Oregon Short Line Railway Company were filed in the office of the territorial secretary of Wyoming on the 11th inst. They empower and authorize the company to build or acquire by lease or purchase or consolidation or otherwise, the following extensions or branches:

A railroad from Pocatello running in a general northerly or westerly or southwesterly direction through Idaho and into and through Idaho and into and through Montana, Washington territory and the states of Nevada, Oregon and California.

Also a railroad from McCammon running in a general southerly direction to Ogden, Salt Lake and other places in Utah, Nevada, Arizona and California.

The Short Line assumes the power to acquire by lease or purchase or consolidation or otherwise any railroad or railroads or any of the foregoing routes.

The certificate is signed by Charles Francis Adams, president, and attested by Alexander Millar, secretary.

Superior Building Stone.

Wasco Sun.

Tenino's quarry furnishes a quality of stone that for building purposes cannot be excelled. It is called granite but does not belong to that family at all. It is fine grained and of sedimentary formation, as is indicated by its layers. It dresses easily, and according to tests made by the government agents when the mint building was erected here will stand more weather than any in America. The quarry is an immense one and the time will come when it will be worked for what it is worth. It is a much better rock than that procured from the [illegible] in which the postoffice and other [illegible] buildings were erected, and when the river is opened it can be shipped to Portland cheaper than any [illegible] government [illegible] at the Cascade locks would do well to examine it, as it can be delivered at the locks a great deal cheaper than the stone they get from Spokane Falls and it is certainly far superior to the latter.

American Colonial Money.

Whitelaw V. Ryder, of Northfield, has an interesting relic of colonial times in the shape of an eight dollar bill, issued on the 10th day of April, 1774. It is 3½ inches long by 2¾ inches wide, and is rudely executed in both engraving and printing. On its face it contains the following: "This indented bill of eight shall entitle the bearer hereof to receive bills of exchange payable in London, or gold and silver, at the rate of four shillings and sixpence sterling per dollar for the said bill according to the directions of an act of Assembly of Maryland. Dated in Annapolis this 10th day of April, Anno Domini 1774. Wm. Eddis, G. Clapham." On the reverse side is the print of a rude woodcut of some branches and leaves, around which is printed: "Tis death to counterfeit; eight dollars, equal to 36s sterling. Annapolis: printed by A. C. and F. Green." It is an interesting reminder of colonial days and could not be easily bought from Mr. Ryder, who keeps it in an excellent state of preservation.

No Creamery at Roseburg.

Umpqua Herald.

B. Melms, representing an Eastern firm, arrived in Roseburg Sunday and called a meeting of the citizens on Monday night for the purpose of taking steps toward establishing a creamery and cold storage enterprise in Roseburg. The meeting was very well attended by the business men and Mr. Melms explained his mission and stated that $11,000 would erect a first-class creamery. A soliciting committee was appointed and $[illegible] in stock subscribed the next day, with good prospects of the whole amount being raised. Then it was discovered that the agreement drawn up by Mr. Melms was as binding on each signer as a note for $11,000, and most of the signers immediately cut their names off. It is safe to say that this project will fall through, and if Roseburg has a creamery it will probably originate from a different source than the one now proposed.

EROTIC LITERATURE.

A Protest Against the Tendencies of Female Story Writers.

Belford's Magazine.

The erotic in American fiction is a recent and exotic growth, not native to the soil. It is, therefore, unhealthy and unwholesome. It is out of place in this cold Northern air. In its own climate it is a gaudy flower; in this temperate zone it is a poisonous, spotted lily, rank of smell and blistering to the touch. The licentiousness of Theophile Gautier is elevated by the power of his transcendent genius to the plane of true art. In America it sinks into a denizen of the gutter.

A remarkable feature of this noxious development is the prominent part taken in it by women. It is somewhat startling to find upon the title page of a work whose cold, deliberate immorality and cynical disregard of all social decency have set the teeth on edge, the name of a woman as the author. We are so accustomed to associate modesty of demeanor, delicacy of thought and word, and purity of life with women that a certain set of adjectives, expressive of virtue and morality, have come to include the idea of femininity in their signification. It is certainly surprising, if not repugnant, to find women the most industrious laborers in the work of tearing down the structure of honor and respect for their sex which has so long been regarded as the basis of social existence. If this breaking of the holy images be not another manifestation of the revolt of women against the [illegible] narrow limits of ancient prejudice it is only additional proof that misguided revolution easily becomes mere anarchy. While the dispensation which would confine women to the nursery and kitchen and exclude them from broader fields of action is happily a dead letter, it is quite certain that no condition of civilization, however liberal, will ever justify loose principles or lax manners, or, what is almost as reprehensible and much more despicable, the cynicism which sneers at virtue while it prudently keeps its own skirts unsoiled. But it is probable that women who write this kind of fiction are misled by vanity rather than actuated by evil impulses. They imagine that in thus throwing off all restraint they are giving evidence of originality of thought and force of character, whereas they are, in fact, courting unworthy suspicion and winning only that sort of applause which is thinly veiled contempt.

ELSMERIA.

New York Tribune.

The kind of intellectual epidemic which has arisen out of Mrs. Humphrey Ward's novel, and which Mrs. Deland's story has aggravated, has some curious aspects. In the first place no question is raised in either of these books which has not been familiar for many years to all who keep in touch with religious discussion and development. In the second place, the issues as presented through the medium of fiction have been received and treated as though they were quite new. The reasonable inference from these facts, of course, is that there are a great many novel readers who do not read any more serious literature, and the suggestion naturally grows out of this that fiction may be employed to bring before this class considerations which they would hardly encounter in any other way. Elsmeria cannot be regarded as significant of the spread of what is loosely termed "advanced thought," for it is concerned with views and mental attitudes supposed by those who really keep pace with the "time-spirit" to have been outgrown. To find deep significance in such half-way doctrines and discussions as Mrs. Ward's is not a proof of forwardness, but of backwardness, in short.

The agitation caused in certain circles by these novels is, however, doubtless less genuine than it appears on the surface. It is in part a mere movement of vogue and fashion, an illustration of the imitative tendency which seems to grow with the development of means of communication and what are called the agencies of civilization generally. Preachers must be a good deal astonished at the apparently powerful impression produced by these books, however, and perhaps some of them may be discouraged by what is capable of being interpreted as a measure of their own work in past years. But there is reason to believe that the majority of those who have taken the epidemic are introduced now for the first time to questions which elsewhere have been debated and dealt with long ago. If this be the case there is no cause for uneasiness, for inasmuch as indifference is always the deadliest foe of religion, whatever stimulates thought and arouses interest in such issues is likely to produce wholesome results in the long run.

Shocking Accident.

We read the headlines of many a newspaper column and we peruse with palpitating interest the details of the catastrophe, and are deeply impressed by the sacrifice of human lives involved. Yet thousands of men and women are falling victims every year to that terrible disease, consumption—scrofula of the lungs,—and they and their friends are satisfied to believe the malady incurable. Now, there could be no greater mistake. No earthly power, of course, can restore a lung that is entirely wasted, but Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will rapidly and surely arrest the ravages of consumption, if taken in time. Do not, therefore, despair, until you have tried this wonderful remedy.

MINES AND MINING.

Marvelous Strike in the Mother Lode, Ophir Mountain, Cœur d'Alene.

Indication of a Prosperous Season in the Baker County Mines—A Good Showing From the Wallowa Region

Cœur d'Alene Record, March 17.

In our Friday issue we made brief reference to the fact that on Wednesday last a body of ore of remarkable richness was struck in one of the tunnels of the Mother Lode. It was then impossible to speak except in such general terms as would leave the reader still in doubt as to whether or not the wealth did not lay in the [illegible] of the [illegible] We could not then give figures [illegible] [illegible] Record reporter had in his possession, saying that the lowest estimate of its value was about $25 per pound, or $[illegible] per ton. This statement created a great deal of comment, [illegible] [illegible] of the sample [illegible]

[illegible]

This is the fifth discovery of this character made in Ophir hill, one at the foot, one at the top, and three between, suggesting the idea of convenient lodging stations along the white trail of the yellow incumbent of [illegible] mountains. But it is useless to dwell long upon formations, or theories, or guesses. Very soon we can give figures, and we can afford to wait a little longer for the benefits which their eloquence will bring to dispel the gloom of the "winter of our discontent."

BAKER COUNTY MINES.

All Signs Indicate a Prosperous Season and Miners More Hopeful Than Ever.

Baker City Democrat.

During the past few days a large number of mine owners from the various districts throughout Baker county have congregated in the city and nearly all of them make a very favorable report of the past winter's development work on quartz claims, and seem more confident than ever of the future prosperity of the mining industry of this county.

Throughout the sections of Cracker creek, Sumpter, Granite and Cable Cove, a greater amount of development work was done the past winter than ever before in the same length of time, and the result has been that some of the best mines of the Northwest have been opened up, giving positive testimony to the fact that Baker county is rich in her mines and offers a field for the investment of capital that is not excelled anywhere on the Pacific coast, and in many localities capital is taking hold with a vim and vigor that gives full assurance of extensive operations and the building up of an industry that will put thousands upon thousands of dollars into the channels of trade annually.

With the building of a $[illegible] milling plant on the Eureka and Excelsior mines at Cracker creek at an early day, which is a positive fact, a new impetus will be given the mines of this county and the result will be that a larger amount of capital will be attracted here than ever before, and before the summer is over it is confidently expected that various other mills will be in full operation on other equally valuable properties.

Altogether, the mining outlook of Baker county was never better and a more perfect assurance of prosperity was never manifest. The eyes of the capitalist are turned this way and many extensive mining deals are under headway. What with the many wealthy companies now operating here the future presents a very encouraging aspect and our people, who have waited long and patiently for this favorable turn of affairs, are not slow to take advantage of their good fortune and push every other industry to the front and keep apace with the times.

From parties down from Robinsonville, this county, it is learned that a wonderful rich strike of gold ore was made the other day in the Phœnix mine about one mile from Robinsonville. The ore is estimated to be worth from $[illegible] to $[illegible] per ton, so rich that the gold stands out in lumps on every piece of rock picked up.

The owners of the Phœnix are Cal Berry, Dave [illegible], [illegible] Collier and Tom Barnett, a quartet of old miners and prospectors who have mined in the vicinity of their present find for many years.

NOTES FROM WALLOWA.

The Recent Strike in the Royal Purple—The Tunnel Company's Mine.

The Wallowa Chieftain, published at Joseph, Wallowa county, in its last issue gives particulars of the recent strike in the Royal Purple mine, as follows:

"Last week a ledge of fine looking ore was struck in the Royal Purple mining property. This mine was discovered in August, 1886, by T. J. Dean and S. J. Martin, and was given its name from the peculiar color of the rock found. During the winter of [illegible] the discoverers did considerable work on the property, and since that time a great deal of prospecting has been done with the hope of finding a true ledge in the deposit. The work on the property now consists of two tunnels. The upper tunnel was run a distance of [illegible] feet and then abandoned. The lower tunnel, some fifty feet below the first, was run a distance of [illegible] feet, and a drift of [illegible] feet from this tunnel encountered the ledge. In all this tunneling an ore rich in silver and copper was found scattered through the country rock, and the object of the owners of the mine was to find a large deposit of the ore, as there was no [illegible] in regard to its richness. It now seems that in this ledge the object of their search has been found. Mr. Martin informs us that the ledge is seven feet wide, that it is between perfect walls of limestone and granite, and to all appearances the ore is as rich as any pockets found in the development work. He has drifted on the ledge about fifteen feet, and expects that a few feet more of work will definitely decide the value of the mine.

"All mining men who have visited the Royal Purple agree that it is one of the most wonderful deposits of mineral they ever saw, and we have never yet found a competent judge who did not think the property a valuable one. The ore from the Royal Purple is a smelting rock, and if further developments prove the deposit as large as expected, no doubt machinery suitable for working the ore will be located here in the near future. This mine is situated about three miles above the lake, and is owned by our townsmen, Messrs. Dean, Martin, Forsythe and McCaw."

A prominent mining man in this city says this is an important strike. For two years the mine [illegible] had a local prominence. The [illegible] was so good that a Denver man [illegible] and the owners $41.75 a ton clear for all of the kind sent to them to test that would [illegible] The next [illegible] will evidently create a greater impression and do the district immense good.

The Tunnel company's mine at Joseph is also [illegible] the vein goes down. A recent number of the Chieftain gives the following assays at 80 feet deep: First, $[illegible]; second, $[illegible]; third, $[illegible]; fourth, $[illegible]; fifth, $[illegible]. The importance of these assays [illegible] that they are in gold and silver, except [illegible] Mr. Barnett of this city, [illegible] Wednesday [illegible] these reports and [illegible] still showing up [illegible] Mr. Barnett [illegible] has always maintained the rich future of the mine.

The Chieftain also says transfers of Joseph real estate have been quite numerous [illegible] past week, although times are [illegible] in these transactions [illegible] the price of Joseph real estate has nearly doubled in the past six months. There is no [illegible] attempt to boom the town [illegible] natural growth, and a well-founded [illegible] future importance of the place. A large immigration is expected in Wallowa county this year.

A good tinner with a small amount of money, can find a good business opening at Joseph. Joseph is a town of 400 inhabitants and surrounding all [illegible]

The mines at Joseph are only about [illegible] miles across the ridge from Cracker creek. Both sets of mines are on the same formation and in direct linear course. Few places on the coast are making more noise at present than Cracker creek and its well established reputation gives value to all such neighboring mines. In the meantime, Wallowa is fast establishing its own reputation for good mines, and then the district will have great notoriety. The Legore mines, at Joseph, are regarded by many mining men as the best in Oregon.

AN OPEN QUESTION.

Is Harrison a Descendant of Pocahontas?

It is popularly believed that President Harrison is descended from Pocahontas and from the parliamentary soldier and regicide, Gen. Thomas Harrison, who was executed in 1660.

Pocahontas, daughter of Powhatan, manifested a friendliness for the early white settlers of Virginia when she was but a girl. The story of how she saved the life of Capt. John Smith, who had been captured and condemned to death by her father—how she, on several occasions, made known to the settlers their danger when about to be attacked by her people—is well known to all acquainted with the early history of America. Her subsequent marriage with John Rolfe, an Englishman; her removal to England, where a son was born, from whom numerous wealthy families of Virginia claim descent—[illegible] that President Harrison [illegible] descendants.

Pocahontas, during her life-long friendship for the white settlers of Virginia, besides her many acts of kindness, is said to have contributed much valuable information to the [illegible] concerning the successful methods employed by the Indians in the treatment of disease and it matters little whether the alleged relationship between herself and the president be true or not for the name of Pocahontas is already immortal.

FREIGHTS—The situation is decidedly depressing for ship owners. Shippers are in no need of tonnage, and the demand abroad is so slight that there is no immediate likelihood of their wanting any. The British India, 1199 tons, is disengaged, and at present the only one in port; she is lying at Astoria. A nominal quotation for rates is 67s. 6d., but it is hardly obtainable. The following vessels are loading wheat: The Samon, 1139 tons; Fiery Cross, 1399 tons, C. Caesar & Co.; the Adele, 851 tons, Balfour, Guthrie, & Co.; and the City of Canton, 1093 tons, Portland Shipping Co. The Portland Flouring Mills are loading the Æolus, 1610 tons, the Dunscore, 1000 tons, and the Famenoth, 983 tons. The Gartmore, 1035 tons, has been engaged at 30s. during the week, for Greenwich, with lumber. The following is a statement of the registered tonnage of the port:

In port—Disengaged	1,199

SALMON.

The San Francisco correspondent of an Eastern trade circular, speaking on the salmon situation and particularly in regard to an article recently published in the New York Bulletin, says:

We have seen this most senseless screed which is about as near an absolute lie from beginning to end published by the New York Bulletin on the salmon situation. Have no question that the Bulletin thought it was publishing facts, for we have always found it to be not only a paper of marked ability, but of force and reliability also. The fact is, that beyond the boasting of the successful broker, or the pitiful malicious lies of the man who has proved so arrant a failure, the fact stands out beyond all cavil that the European buyers believe this: that the price that has been made for Alaska and British Columbia salmon has been a safe one to buy at, and they have bought. Instead of the Alaska Commercial Company being buyers or speculators, they have been large sellers of salmon for export, and the bulk of this salmon that has been reported sold for export has been sold for export. The movement has been as unexpected to the friends of the salmon market as it has been disappointing to the enemies. That the movement is a genuine one there is no more question than there is of the fact that night follows day. There is not as much Alaska salmon left for the home market to-day as there was last year, even allowing a fair pack of the new canners, and there is no question but what Alaska salmon has been so nearly taken up, that what has been left will be taken into camp as soon as a reasonable price is made on it. The fact is that what few packs are left unsold are either those of expeditions so uncertain that no one dares to take a contract on them, or that the packers believe that the market is yet going higher, and will not sell even at present prices. We can talk from an unprejudiced standpoint because what salmon we have for our customers was secured at the very bottom of the market, and our trade know that we ask them never more than a legitimate commission for handling this, and we do not care whether the market goes up or not, we shall give them a chance to buy at the bottom, and there is not a ghost of a show of the market going any lower than now, before next winter. The foreign market has shown that it can take a very large quantity of salmon at a reasonable price. All the Alaska that went to England last year averaged to cost the buyer fully 40 cents more than the purchases this year. It was taken rapidly, and is being all sold at a profit, and sold freely, and at the difference in price this year they have been the buyers, instead of the home market, and they have bought so largely that the price of Alaska is a sure thing. Columbia river is still an uncertain quantity. Some sales have been made at very high prices, and of course it puts these packers in a position where they can pay high prices for fish, and it virtually shuts out the packers who have not sold, and who do not dare to sell and who do not dare to make much of a pack on an uncertainty. Our own idea is there will be a very small pack on the Columbia. They always get their best packing in June and July. April and May the pack has never paid them to turn a wheel. Their June and July rise in the river comes from the melting of the snow on the mountains, and this year there is hardly any snow on the mountains. Both their rainfall and their snowfall have been very small indeed, and all of the old residents are prophesying very low water in June and July whether interested in salmon fishing or not, and certainly the outlook for a pack of any size on the Columbia is a blue one. Of course the unexpected sometimes happens, and there is a possibility of a big pack on the Columbia, but the probabilities are that the pack will not exceed 250,000 cases, and of that fully 100,000 cases are sold already, and it is only a question of price on as many more. Meanwhile, there is plenty of time to wait for the moving of the water, but if there is any demand for any goods, and our own opinion is that trade is improving all over the east, there will be salmon sold at d eaten long before the season is over, and because one man is unable to sell any goods, or do any business, it does not follow that there is no business to be done. The world still moves, and when the failures go under, the ripple is very small and soon subsides."

SAN FRANCISCO MARKETS.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—Produce receipts past 24 hours, included 14,500 ctls wheat, 11,500 qr sks flour, 1500 ctls oats, 55 sks potatoes, 2000 ctls barley.

Freights and Charters—The demand for grain tonnage the past week has been very light and the only charters effected were the Br sh Brynhilda and ship Gatherer, both to load wheat for Sydney. Their rates have been kept private. Vessels for lumber loading were offering more freely and charters were as follows; Br sh Howrah, Puget sound to Valparaiso; Ger sh Elvira, Puget sound to Buenos Ayres; Nor bk Carl Hoasted, Puget sound to United Kingdom; Swed sh Ottalina, lumber, Puget sound to Australia; Nor sh Sumarlide, Puget sound to United Kingdom. Coal charters were: Bark General Fairchild, Departure bay, and ship Alex McCallum, Tacoma, both for this port.

Wheat—The movement of wheat, both local and export, has ruled rather quiet, and prices have declined slightly from best prices of the previous week. The leading feature of the trade has been the taking up of several vessels to load wheat for Australia. Rains have been general throughout the state, and crop prospects are excellent. Exporters consequently reduced bids, feeling that the prospective large crop would unfavorably affect the market and cause lower prices. Holders feel inclined to accept the situation, and offer moderately. No. 1 shipping, about $1 37½. Options continue to move downward, although slight rallies are noted. Trading has not been brisk, and the volume of the week's business hardly up to the average. To-day's morning sales were 2400 tons buyer year at $1 42, 300 tons at $1 41⅞, 100 tons at $1 42⅛, buyer season $1 39.

Afternoon session—Buyer year opened $1 42, closed $1 42¾; buyer season, $1 39⅞; seller year, new, $1 32.

Barley—Owing to lighter receipts during the past week the market has steadily acquired a firmer tone. Choice feed is held at 80c, a figure above shippers' views, consequently the volume of business passing is light, and before any marked activity can take place, holders must grant concessions. Options are rather easier than a week ago and closed this morning. Buyer year 80⅝c, buyer season 78⅛c.

Oats—The market exhibits a very dull tone, owing to the liberal receipts of the past week, the increase of stocks, and the fact that buyers hold off awaiting a decline in values. Nominally feed ranges from $1@1 10, but to effect sales holders shade rates.

Potatoes—Consignments for the past few days have been coming to hand liberally and stocks are still heavy. The demand has been of an indifferent kind and usually only for choicer grades. Burbanks seedlings, quoted 60@80c; Garnet Chile, 40@50c; Peerless, 3 @45c.

Millstuffs—Liberal offerings, and a slow demand have contributed a soft tone to the market. Trading the past week has been very light. Nominal quotations are $12 00@13 50 for bran; $13 50@15 50 for middlings.

Hops—Stocks are of very small proportions and transactions light. Quote nominally, 10@15c.

Wool—There is very little on hand at the present time and little or nothing will be doing until the spring clip begins to come in. Holders are firm and quote 12@18c for Eastern Oregon spring; 20@21c for Oregon valley.

Butter—Prices rule fairly steady under a moderate demand. Quote fancy, 18c; fair to choice, 13@17c; pickled roll, 18@20c.

Eggs—Receipts coming to hand more freely, but the demand is good and values rule steady at 18c, California ranch; Eastern, 15@16c.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK MARKET.

CHICAGO, March 21.—Cattle—Receipts, 11,000; steady; choice beeves, $4 10@4 60; steers, $3@4; stockers $4, feeders, $2 20@3 30; Texas cattle, $2@3 25.

Hogs—Receipts, 16,000; strong, 5c higher; mixed, $4 50@4 75; heavy, $4 55@4 70; light, $4 60@4 80; pigs, $4 85@4 95.

THE TERRITORIAL APPOINTMENTS.

New York Tribune.

President Harrison's territorial appointments thus far have been made in accordance with sound policy, and the earliest selections indicate that the list will be filled on the same principle. The policy is sound in the first place, because it carries out the emphatic promise of the Chicago platform, that residence in the territories should be a prime qualification for office. President Cleveland broke many pledges of the platform on which he was elected, but none earlier, more often and more deliberately than the party pledge covering this point. Broken promises come home to roost as a general thing, and Mr. Cleveland's experience was as far as possible from being an exception to the rule. He made the territories a dumping ground for disreputable adherents whom it was important to placate or convenient to reward, and to the last never seemed to be aware that he made a political blunder as often as he violated a pledge. He had, to be sure, good reason for supposing that the promise was not made to be kept, for the course of the democrats in congress toward the territories was for many years a studied affront; but that extraordinary superiority to his environment with which he was credited ought to have come to his rescue.

He certainly did not lack abundant evidence that his policy was a failure in practice as well as in morals. Many of his appointments were so unfit as to be simply grotesque. Ludicrous the rest of the country may have called them, but to the people of the territories there was nothing funny in the situation, and they even accomplished the difficult task of alienating still further from the democratic faith and fold a host of loyal, prosperous, intelligent men who are soon to be voters. Such men were not deceived when enough honorable or sagacious members of the house were found to pass the admission bill. They had taken the measure of Democracy for twenty-five years.

President Harrison's course toward the territories in respect to federal offices is sound, not only because it keeps the promise of the convention that nominated him, but also because it is inherently right and proper that those imperial domains should be governed by men who understand their people, are familiar with their necessities and demands, and have a stake in their prosperity. And finally, it is good politics to respect the honest and honorable preferences of territories which are on the verge of statehood. It is the sort of politics that becomes the president of the United States and the leader of a party; the sort that no honest stickler for the proprieties can object to, and that even the most officious hypocrite would find it hard to sneer at. It is the sort of politics at which we hope that President Harrison will prove himself an adept.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is just what you want for a spring medicine—superior to all.

A TEMPEST IN A TEAPOT.

The Reported Conflict Between Union and Northern Pacific Forces in Jefferson Canyon.

St. Paul Pioneer-Press.

President Oakes, of the Northern Pacific, in reply to questions, yesterday made the following statement concerning the reported railroad war in Jefferson canyon:

"It is simply a tempest in a teapot. The Union Pacific has had no force in the canyon for five years, so that our contractors went into the canyon and began grading. After being at work a week the chief contractor saw a tent pitched at or near the located line. On investigation we found three men and ordered them off. Two of them went willingly and the third was led away gently. This is the sum and substance of our so-called attack on the Union Pacific forces. Two or three days later a force, consisting mainly of tramps, headed by two deputy sheriffs, who were acting without authority, appeared on the scene, whereupon our small force retired in good order. I have never found that a good cause could be helped along by violence. We consider our course entirely justifiable under all the circumstances and have no regrets over the situation, as we are not expending any money in holding the fort."

When asked if the earnings of the Northern Pacific were satisfactory Mr. Oakes picked up a slip of paper from his desk and replied:

"I have just got the report for March 11, which shows earnings of $57,494 against $41,917 for the same day last year, an increase of about $16,000 in one day. We can't get emigrant cars enough to accommodate the people. How is this accounted for? We have been working hard for five years to get this immigration started, and are just reaping the benefit of this labor."

The reported deal by which the Union Pacific is to go to Tacoma over the Pacific division of the Northern Pacific was mentioned, and Mr. Oakes was asked if there were any foundation for it. He replied that if the arbitration agreement was executed by both companies the Union Pacific would run trains from Omaha to Tacoma via Portland and the Pacific division.

What Scott's Emulsion Has Done!

Over 25 Pounds Gain in Ten Weeks.
Experience of a Prominent Citizen.

THE CALIFORNIA SOCIETY FOR THE SUPPRESSION OF VICE,
SAN FRANCISCO, July 7th, 1886.

I took a severe cold upon my chest and lungs and did not give it proper attention; it developed into bronchitis, and in the fall of the same year I was threatened with consumption. Physicians ordered me to a more congenial climate, and I came to San Francisco. Soon after my arrival I commenced taking Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil with Hypophosphites regularly three times a day. In ten weeks my avoirdupois went from 155 to 180 pounds and over; the cough meantime ceased. C. R. BENNETT.

PERRY'S HILL, TEXAS, June 20, 1888.—The Swift Specific Company, Atlanta, Ga.—Gentlemen: One of my children was troubled with rheumatism and boils for about two years. We gave her various kinds of medicine, but without profit, and began to despair of curing her at all. I was persuaded to try your Swift's Specific. After she had used several bottles the diseases all disappeared, and she is now a hale, hearty and healthy girl twelve years old. Another child has just become afflicted in the same way, and I am using the S. S. S. and anticipate a prompt and permanent cure. N. C. WADDINGS.

RICH HILL, MO., July 7, 1888.—The Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.—Gentlemen: Our little girl when but three weeks old broke out with eczema. We tried the prescriptions from several good doctors, but without any special benefit. We tried S. S. S., and by the time one bottle was gone her head began to heal, and by the time she had taken six bottles she was completely cured. Now she has a full and heavy head of hair—a robust, hearty child. I feel it but my duty to make this statement. Respectfully, H. T. SHOBE.

CHATTANOOGA, TENN., June 27, 1888.—The Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.—Gentlemen: In 1883 I contracted blood poison, and at once sought a physician, who treated me for several months. By his advice I went to Crab Orchard Springs, Ky., where his course of treatment was carefully observed. I recovered, as I thought, but the next spring pimples began to appear on my face and body. These gradually increased to sores and running ulcers. I was advised to try S. S. S., and immediately after taking it I commenced to improve, slowly at first, but more rapidly afterwards, and soon nothing remained to tell of my trouble. My blood is now thoroughly cleansed, and my system free from taint, and I owe my present condition—a perfect cure—to your medicine. I cheerfully give this statement that others who have suffered as I have may reap the same benefit. HARDY H. BURT, 24 West Ninth St.

HOMER, LA., May 26, 1888—The Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.—Gentlemen: About two years ago my general health gave way entirely. I was so debilitated that I almost despaired of ever feeling well again. All that the physicians done for me brought no permanent relief. Friends insisted that I should give S. S. S. a fair trial, although I thought it would be throwing away money. After taking a thorough course, my health and strength returned, and I must say that S. S. S. alone cured me, as I discarded all others while using it. As a tonic I can most heartily recommend it; for general debility, it certainly is a specific. W. F. EMBORT, J.P.

HOMER, LA.—I know Mr. W. F. Bridges, and will say that his statement is correct.

A RAILROAD FOR PORTLAND.

Capitalists Propose to Build a Line From Umatilla Northward.

It Will Cost $3,000,000—Men From This City and Omaha Are Interested and They Mean Business, Too

Advices from North Yakima say that John T Flynn, of Portland, was up there a few days ago and proposed to give them independent railroad connections with the Columbia river and with Portland via the O R & N Co provided they raised a bonus of $60,000 worth of land, present valuation. The other terms of the proposition were that the road was to be built within two years, when the real estate is to be conveyed to the promoters of the enterprise

Mr Flynn returned yesterday and when seen by an OREGONIAN reporter was not inclined to say much about the mission he had been on

"My proposition is under consideration" he said "The mayor and many prominent citizens are favorably impressed with it and I think they will raise the bonus"

"On whose authority did you make this offer?" asked the reporter

"I represent Portland and Omaha capitalists who mean business and nothing but business" was the significant answer. They propose to give Eastern Washington another new railroad, one that will make a rich and productive country tributary to Portland. The plan is to build a road from Umatilla, the junction of the Oregon Short Line and O R & N systems, thence through the Horse Heaven country and enter the Yakima valley at a point near Prosser. An application for authority to build a bridge across the Columbia river at Umatilla has already been forwarded to Washington. The distance from Umatilla to the lower end of Yakima valley is about fifty miles and from this point to North Yakima City about the same distance. It is the intention to build into the valley, but whether the line will be extended to the city depends entirely on whether the bonus is raised. It has not yet been decided whether to cross the Yakima river near the entrance to the valley and build to what is known as the Sunnyside country or to parallel the Northern Pacific through the Yakima Indian reservation to North Yakima. The intention is to occupy the Natchez pass and develop the vast coal fields at the base of the Cascades in that vicinity. The distance from North Yakima to the coal fields which are simply a continuation of the Roslyn mines is about forty miles, making the total distance traversed from Umatilla less than 150 miles. The tillable land made tributary to the road will exceed 2,000,000 acres, to say nothing of the timber, coal and other mineral resources of the Cascade range. The completion of this road will give Portland access to the richest piece of territory on the line of the Northern Pacific road. Close connection will be made at Umatilla with the O R & N Co until such time as the Columbia river is open to that point and then the transfer from car to boat will be made. With an open river to this point it will be possible to take grain from the Yakima valley to Astoria for less than one-half of the present charges, and the result will show that the Columbia river is the place for foreign shipments. Instead of laboring under a disadvantage of $1 50 a ton as at present, we will have an advantage to that extent over Puget sound competitors."

"You say you represent Portland and Omaha capitalists. How are they fixed, financially?"

"They have plenty of capital. The road which is estimated to cost $3,000,000, will probably be known as the Umatilla Central railroad. The survey was made several years ago. While at Umatilla I purchased 2000 acres of land for $10,000 for the capitalists. Of this land 400 acres are in the original townsite and the remaining 1600 are located near by. That gives us a water front about two miles long. C H Prescott, formerly manager of the O R & N Co at Portland, has also purchased land in the vicinity of Umatilla."

"Is the O R & N Co behind the proposed Umatilla Central railroad?"

"I don't know. Of course I know by whom I was instructed, but I am not at liberty to mention names."

TRAMPS IN EAST PORTLAND.

A Gang of Vagrants Captured and Lodged in the City Jail

House Burned Down—Petty Thieves—In Bad Condition—Shade Trees—Vacancy Filled—Read by Electric Light.

The city jail was filled with about as rough a lot of vagrants last night as has ever been seen in this locality. Thirteen were captured yesterday, principally in the vicinity of the old bath house near the O & C railroad. One who had a wooden leg and two who claimed that they had been working in Albina where they had money coming to them were allowed to go, but even when relieved of these three, the jail was crowded to its utmost with the motley gang. The men were all given ten days each and will be required to work on the streets for that length of time. Heretofore the vagrants were allowed to reduce their terms by working but this crowd will be required to put in the full ten days at hard labor.

One of the tramps when arrested had in his possession a card and flower case which he said he had carved from blocks of wood with a small knife. It must have cost him infinite pains and considerable time to work out the design with such a delicate finish. He introduced this piece of work to show the court that he was no tramp, but it was not accepted as evidence, and both he and his handwork were consigned to a "dungeon cell," where he was soon endeavoring to exchange the card and flower cases for a plug of tobacco.

The gang will probably appear on the streets to-day

BURNED TO THE GROUND

Yesterday morning about 6 o'clock Mr J Anderson's house in Rafferty's addition in the southern portion of the city occupied by a newcomer named Miller was burned to the ground. Mr Miller got up in the morning and built the fire in the kitchen stove. The stove is in the shed part of the house and the ceiling and roof are close together, the pipe passing through them both. The fire caught between the ceiling and roof. As soon as the fire was discovered the neighbors came to Miller's assistance but little or nothing could be done to save the building, although the man's furniture was most all removed. Miller stood on the roof and chopped a hole to the flames, but was driven away by the heat, as water could not be obtained in sufficient amount from the wells. The building was burned to the ground, the loss being about $300. Miller lost only $30 and this was from damage to the furniture. It was not ascertained as to whether there was any insurance or no. There was no fire alarm and the department did not turn out.

SNEAK THIEVES

Wednesday night a sneak thief entered the back part of Kindorff's meat market through a window that opens on Fourth street, and stole several overcoats that were hanging on the wall. Nothing else was disturbed about the building. The building on the corner of Fourth and G streets was entered, and a watch was taken. Here the thief exchanged hats with the gentleman living in the building, leaving his old one.

A BAD ROAD

The road leading from Holladay avenue south to the cut that leads to the O & C depot and ferry is in a bad condition and should be repaired. The roadway in the cut is planked and is in good condition but at the end of the planking there is a sudden depression and a loaded team is liable to break down in passing over the plank roadway or getting on to it. The planking should be continued to the avenue.

PUT OUT THE TREES

Mr W T B Nicholson is having shade trees set out around his block on Sixteenth and J. He has caused to be set out more than 100 trees in the neighborhood. The move is in the right direction and all having city property should do the same. The cost is very small.

AN ILLITERATE TRAMP

Last night one of the tramps in the city jail was reading a newspaper by means of the electric light that sends its rays into the jail when he remarked to a gentleman that this is the only city that can afford the luxury of reading by an electric light.

RESIGNED—ELECTED

Mrs G J Ross, president of the W C T U, tendered her resignation yesterday and Mrs J W Kerns was elected to supply the vacancy. The association is in good circumstances and doing excellent work.

NOTES

Competent Engineer Wanted.—The board of fire delegates of East Portland will receive bids up to April 1 for a competent engineer of steam engines who will devote his whole time to keeping up steam and keep the fire apparatus in order in case of fire. A H Bosw, Secretary.

BRIEF MENTION

It is a matter of no little surprise to the stranger visiting the city for the first time that such a large number of the best makes of pianos as find a market here should be sold in this market. The piano that of course takes the lead of all others is the matchless Decker Bros handled only by The Kohler & Chase Music House at 71 Morrison street. This is considered in musical circles as the finest instrument in the world.

FRED WARDE AS WM. TELL.

The Play Lacks Some Essentials, But It Was Excellently Presented

Mr Warde's Portrayal of the Character of the Swiss Hero Was Appreciated by the Audience—"Virginius" To-Night

The New Park theater contained another large and enthusiastic audience last evening upon the occasion of the first presentation in Portland of the historic play "William Tell," by the Frederick Warde company.

Perhaps there is no legend of history more familiar to the people, nor one around which clings a great flavor of romance and exalted patriotism than the story of William Tell. It has seized and held the thought and stimulated the fancy of the youth of every land where freedom and civil liberty are enjoyed. Yet as a subject for a strong, dramatic play it lacks many essential elements. There is not sufficient variety of incident nor opportunity for the lights and shades so necessary to constitute a drama of thrilling interest. The theme, however, is a noble one. Indeed there can be none nobler than love of country and the patriot's sacrifices for the holy cause.

Be the merits of the play what they may, there can be but one opinion as to Mr Warde's portrayal of the character of the Swiss hero. It was a strong virile impersonation. He threw into it all the force of his robust personality and the lines of his part, breathing the lofty tone of a pure unsullied patriotism, as spoken by him with a responsive echo in the hearts of his audience.

His greatest work was in the fourth act, which is the act of the play. There was genius in his admirable treatment of the scene before Gessler when he is confronted with his much loved boy Albert, and, to save his life, submits to the trial of his skill as a marksman. He looked the hardy, independent, free mountaineer, as with head erect and flashing eye he hurled defiance into the teeth of his oppressor. All his work was characterized by that intelligence and earnestness that are so essential a part of his art. He was most generously applauded throughout the entire play.

Miss Adele Belgarde in appearance made a very taking Albert. Had she been more careful to control her features and laughed less at inopportune times her performance would have been more meritorious. It is not artistic to laugh at any time in such a play.

Mr L J Henderson did some vigorous and commendable work as Ernest, and Mr H A Weaver jr, as Gessler, fully covered the demands of the part.

To-night Mr Warde will give for the only time his masterly delineation of "Virginius."

OVIDE MUSIN

This artist and his fine concert company, comprising Mme Annie Louise Tanner, Whitney Mockridge and M Schonert, are receiving flattering notices wherever they appear. The following is from the Chicago Times of February 2:

The first of the two concerts announced by the Musin Grand Concert Company was given last night at Central Music hall. When Mr Musin visited Chicago some time ago he chanced to strike into a surfeit of concerts and until lately he has met the same fortune again. He had, however, a large audience last night, though not what the company richly merits. He stands easily in the front rank of living violinists, and each succeeding visit shows that he has not yet reached the limit of his achievement. He played first night [illegible] "the Prize Song" from Die Meistersinger, a waltz of Wieniawski's and an antique gavotte of Tartini with an elaborate cadenza of his own. The mellow richness of the tone he produces, the truth and surety of his fingering, and the pliant freedom [illegible] delicacy as may be required of his bowing were made manifest again as in the past. But the most striking feature of his playing is a certain something which, for want of a better term may be called individuality. His own fire and spirit color every interpretation. The mechanical exactitudinist may call it ad captandum, the enthusiast may call it genius. Whatsoever it is it takes hold at once on an audience without sacrificing anything of what one may call the scholarship of violin music. No player of the day stirs a listener so promptly. His Caprice is a sparkling and brilliant composition, well written and full of character and go, and it is magnificently played, the extraordinary combination of harmonics at the close delivered with wonderful certainty and sweetness. Rapturously recalled he responded with the Haydn Serenade, showing the exquisite steadiness and fluency of his cantabile, and again recalled he played the pizzicato from Delibes's Sylvia, exhibiting the most brilliant technic in another direction. Later, after the Wieniawski waltz he responded with a familiar flowing melody, the name not at this moment recalled, which displayed finely the breadth, resonance and power of his tone. And with all this accomplished excellence he is as before said still constantly gaining.

SIX DAYS GO-AS-YOU-PLEASE

Fifteen Men Start in the Race at the Mechanics Pavilion.

With a great blaze of glory and an enthusing galop from the Marine band and in the presence of about 200 people, fifteen men started on a six days go-as-you-please journey at the Mechanics pavilion at 10 o'clock last night. Their names are Wm Black, Charles Stuart, Harry Stuart, J Pollard, Dave Haab, J Bailey, J Vincent, Greeley Johnson, E Hogarth, Joseph Wilson, F Knapp, Ben Moore, C Smith, C Johnson, Bert Sprague.

It was thought that Campana, better known as "Old Sport," who was such a great attraction in the New York and San Francisco races would be on hand, but he failed to show up. Manager Lulofson says he has received a telegram from Campana, announcing that he will be on hand to-day or to-morrow.

Charles Stuart being the oldest of the runners, was the "old sport" last night. He started off at a pace suited to a six months go-as-you-please match rather than a six days race, and when he did put a little speed into his movement he so surprised the onlookers that he was roundly cheered.

The favorites of the track are Haab, the smallest man in the race, his head barely coming to the waist of some of the others, and Wilson, the youngest, who has a complexion that would outglisten the best piece of ebony that ever grew. Haab weighs considerably less than 100 pounds. Wilson is about 15 years old and is rather well built. Both made right good sports at times and caused much merriment.

Pollard and Black take things easier than the others. They keep up a steady telling gait, and are determined to win.

The feature of last night was the imperfect registration by the blackboard keepers of the distance covered by the runners and the consequent protests thereof. The scoring was indeed miserable, if not shameful. Bailey, Moore and Sprague were the principal sufferers. Every one of the runners lost all the way from one lap to a mile. Bailey covered nearly three miles before he was credited for two. The track is eleven laps to the mile.

At the end of the first hour the score was: Black 8 miles [illegible] laps, Charles Stuart 9 miles 1 lap, Harry Stuart 8 miles [illegible] laps, Pollard 7 miles 10 laps, Haab 8 miles 8 laps, Bailey [illegible] miles 6 laps, Vincent 7 miles 10 laps, Greeley Johnson 9 miles 3 laps, Hogarth 7 miles 9 laps, Wilson, 7 miles 1 lap, Knapp 9 miles 1 lap, Moore 7 miles 4 laps, Smith 1 mile 2 laps, C Johnson 8 miles 10 laps, Sprague, 10 miles 4 laps.

At 1 o'clock this morning the score in miles was as follows: Black 23, Charles Stuart 9, Pollard 20, Haab 20, Bally 4, Vincent 20, Greely Johnson 21, Hogarth 21, Wilson 20, Knapp 22, Moore 20, C Johnson 16, Sprague 5, Harry Stuart 2.

IN QUARANTINE.

Rev. Alfred Kummer's Personal Experience on the Steamer Columbia.

He Censures the Health Officers of San Francisco for Keeping the Passengers Prisoners When No Good Cause Appears for It

Mr S A Stansbury, a member of the committee on pulpit supply of the Taylor street M E church, yesterday received the following letter, bearing date of March 15:

We arrived here, after a rough passage, on Saturday morning at 7:30, and have been held in quarantine ever since. The following are the facts. At Portland, a little girl with her parents got on board the Columbia with the rest of us. The little girl was sick. At Astoria Captain Bowles called in two physicians who examined the patient and said it was chickenpox. We lay in Astoria twenty-four hours receiving freight. When we arrived in this port, physicians came on board, examined the little girl and pronounced her disease a light form of varioloid. After much suspense and anxiety during Saturday, as no one was allowed to go on shore, we were finally steamed out into the bay about a mile from the city, a yellow flag run up on the vessel and here we are. We have held many indignation meetings; we consider it an outrage and an unjust detention. The child and her parents kept their stateroom which was in the stern of the vessel during the entire passage. There was a strong head wind, and none of us knew anything about the case until we arrived here. The mother of the child solemnly declared, before they were taken to the pesthouse here, that the child had had such a rash for many months and that she had always been delicate; she had been vaccinated about three weeks before leaving Portland. She was removed from this vessel before the contagious stage of her disease, if she has such a disease, which not a man or woman on board this vessel believes. The ship has been thoroughly fumigated; a health officer is on board to vaccinate such people as may desire it. Very few have been vaccinated. Everyone scouts the idea of any contagion. Including the crew there are about 175 persons on board and everyone is in perfect health though we have had anxiety and bitter disappointment enough to make us all sick. This morning they brought the City of Mexico out here expecting to transfer us to that, the Columbia to go ahead, discharge her cargo and go on her way, but the passengers refused to leave this vessel and the City of Mexico was towed back to her wharf.

Governor Perkins and others are doing all they can with the board of health to break this unnecessary and unjust quarantine. As we understand the situation, every member of said board is willing to release us except one. He is so sincerely and unselfishly devoted to the health of San Francisco that he allows hundreds of greasy emigrants to enter the city by the trains every day, but when, forsooth, a domestic vessel comes to port here with a sick child on board previously vaccinated, and having no contagious disease according to the medical testimony of the best physicians in Astoria, this great doctor pounces down on 175 respectable ladies and gentlemen and treats us like a lot of leprous Mongolians. A healthier, better looking, and at the same time more indignant 175, it would be difficult to bring together on the American continent. Or are we in Russia? We are certainly being treated after the manner portrayed so vividly by George Kennan in the Century.

Before closing, I wish to say that Captain Bowles and all the officers of this vessel have treated us with the utmost kindness and attention. We have three good square meals on board every day, and good appetites, and have concerts, prayer meetings, lectures, etc, to while away the time. But my wife and I long for the "flesh pots" of Oregon; our plans are all disarranged and our trip ruined unless we are soon released.

It will be necessary for you to provide for the pulpit another Sunday. I may be with you by the 31st, but it will be better to supply for that date in case I cannot reach you.

I could write a volume on this subject, but forbear. We hope to be set free by Friday morning the 22d. Will telegraph you first day we are out. Address me at the Lick house.

OTHER NEWS MATTERS

TWO RUNAWAYS

Tuesday morning two boys, Jack and Willie Rowe, the oldest 14 years, were sent to school as usual in McMillen's addition. When expected home they did not make their appearance. On inquiry it was ascertained that the boys had not attended school that day. Search was made for them without success and the police were notified, but so far nothing has been learned of their whereabouts. The parents are nearly distracted and will be in suspense until they are found.

THE MEANEST MAN IN ALBINA

A very popular young gentleman (?) of Albina is in the habit of taking his best girl to Portland occasionally in the evening. After promenading awhile and looking in at the show windows he takes her down to the waiting room and tells her he will be back soon. He then slips off into an oyster saloon and gorges himself with everything good while his fair partner in blissful ignorance is patiently waiting for him to return. However she will be bound to find him out before long unless he becomes less selfish.

[illegible]

At an informal meeting last Saturday evening, T W Pittenger as chairman, propositions were read from the Willamette Bridge Company stating that if Albina would build a bridge across the gulch on Gibbs street they would bear half of the expense. Also give bonds for the completion of the same within a reasonable time, and agree to run an electric motor line from Albina to all points in East Portland and across the bridges to Portland every seven minutes at a cost not to exceed 5 cents per person. The council will take action on the proposition at their next regular meeting.

NOTES

The Villard hotel and adjoining building are being raised to the grade of the street.

At the present School Clerk T W Bleick will have his office at his residence on Sacramento street where he can be found at any time.

Rev T F Clapp of the First Congregational Church of Portland will lecture this (Friday) evening at the M E church Albina. The subject will be "What is in the Air?"

A great many people of Albina attended the spring opening Wednesday evening at the Farmers and Mechanics store. From all the praises heard the reception must have been an enjoyable affair.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER ABSOLUTELY PURE.

For quick raising, the Royal Baking Powder is superior to all other leavening agents. It is absolutely pure and wholesome and of the highest leavening power. It is always uniform in strength and quality and never fails to make light, sweet, most palatable and nutritive food. Bread, biscuits, muffins, cake, etc, raised with Royal Baking Powder may be eaten hot without distressing results to the most delicate digestive organs. It will keep in any climate without deterioration.

Prof H. A. Mott, U. S. Government Chemist, after examining officially the principal baking powders of the country, reported:

"The Royal Baking Powder is absolutely pure, for I have so found it in many tests made both for that company and the United States Government.

"Because of the facilities that company have for obtaining perfectly pure cream of tartar, and for other reasons dependent upon the proper proportions of the same, and the method of its preparation, the Royal Baking Powder is undoubtedly the purest and most reliable baking powder offered to the public.

THE DAY'S LEGAL RECORD.

What Business Was Transacted Yesterday in the Several Courts

Going to Law Over Milk—Acquittal of Ah Back—New Suits Instituted—Before the Police Judge

W A Richardson, a milk man, was arrested by Constable Simmons yesterday on complaint of David Wark, a boarding house keeper, who charges the [illegible] with stealing forty quarts of the same.

From what can be learned of the case it seems that Richardson has been supplying Wark with milk for a period extending over a year. Recently he presented a bill for thirty-eight cans of milk, his value for them being $11. Wark disputed the bill and refused to pay it, saying that he had not received within forty quarts of the quantity charged for. Richardson then instituted civil proceedings in Justice Parker's court for the alleged value of thirty-eight cans of adulterated milk. Not to be outdone Wark quietly betook himself to Justice Tuttle's and swore out a warrant for Richardson's arrest on the grounds above stated.

Wark claims that Richardson has been working the "short measure" dodge on him ever since he began buying milk from him but only recently he became aware of the fact. The plaintiff avers that about a month ago he became suspicious and commenced measuring his milk in the presence of witnesses and has continued to do so ever since, finding that he has been cheated out of just forty quarts.

JUDGE TANNER'S AUDIENCE

In the police court yesterday the following cases were disposed of: Sam Essen, Andrew Smith and John Williams, simple drunks, were assessed $2 each; Larry McKinley and Mike Mullen, disorderly drunkards, were let off with a $5 fine each; C A McKinnin and James Kennedy, drunk and disorderly, forfeited $10 each; James Rossner, fighting, $10; William Graham and James Lailey, vagrants, were given ten days each in the city jail.

George Bennett had a hearing on a charge of vagrancy and the case will be argued this afternoon. The defendant may not be a vagrant if several technical points are taken into consideration. He testified as did several others that he had the wherewithal to pay his way, but whether he has any lawful occupation or not is another question. Bennett was arrested by Officer Andrew Holmberg at a late hour yesterday morning while wandering about the streets, and as he did not give a satisfactory account of himself he was taken in charge. The night previous to Bennett's arrest by Officer Holmberg, special policeman Brannin attempted to place him under arrest for trespassing in the gardens of the Arlington club, but he broke away and made his escape. Bennett claims to be a theatrical manager, barkeeper, restaurant keeper, boarding house keeper, etc.

AH BACK ACQUITTED

Ah Back, a meek looking Chinaman, was tried for perjury and acquitted in the criminal court yesterday. This case was an outgrowth of the vendetta in Chinatown last December. Back was accused of testifying that he saw Poon Lung shoot Ah Lung when the truth was Lung was coming down town on a street car when the riot occurred. While it was not denied that Back made the statement credited to him, there was evidence to show that he made it with no idea of afterthought and the jury gave him the benefit of the doubt.

HE WAS FINED $1

Narcisse Thibout was arraigned in the United States district court yesterday on a charge of selling liquor to an Indian. He pleaded guilty, acknowledging that Yellow Hank, an aboriginal gentleman of ancient lineage, had paid him six bits and that he had purchased a bottle of alleged whisky for four bits and sold it to Yellow Hank for six bits, clearing 50 per cent on the investment. On account of the meagerness of the transaction he was sentenced to pay a fine of $1.

GRAND JURORS DRAWN

Judge Deady ordered yesterday that thirty five persons be drawn from the United States district court jury list to act as grand jurors and to appear in court on April 16. A number of cases are ready for their consideration.

DAMAGE SUIT ON TRIAL

The $30,000 damage suit of Z T Clarke vs the O R & N Co was resumed before Judge Shattuck yesterday morning and was on trial during the rest of the day. It will probably be submitted to the jury to-day.
